	Commission Database The Foreign Claims Settlement Commission adjudicates claims of United States nationals for losses resulting from the uncompensated nationalization or other taking of their property by foreign governments, and claims for compensation based on wartime confinement of United States servicemen and civilians as prisoners of war or civilian internees. The Commission maintains records on all such claims, on inquiries concerning such claims, and on the administration of the programs in which those claims are adjudicated. The Commission also maintains records on its own administrative operations and procedures. SEE ATTACHED

Department of Justice, Foreign Claims Settlement Commission: Commission Database

The database has two functions (1) tracks current claims programs which aid in the administration of the Commission's work and (2) tracks FOIA requests including the status of the request. This portion was designed to meet the requirements of Pub. L. 110-175.

1. Claims Tracking

a. Inputs

The data is manually entered into the database by reviewing the developed file in each case and extracting the pertinent information.

Disposition: Maintain with corresponding claim files.

b. Master File

This section contains information to include claimant contact information, status of the claim, and a summary of Commission action. The basis of the information is material originally submitted by the claimants.

Disposition: PERMANENT. Cut off at the end of the program. Transfer to the National Archives in accordance with the approved disposition instructions of the corresponding program files (claim files). ~~Pre-accession to NARA at the end of the program and when inactive, no longer being updated.~~

c. Outputs

Pre-accession policy revoked, 4/19/2022

Ad hoc reports generated to answer questions about claims.

Disposition: TEMPORARY, destroy/delete when no longer needed.

d. System Documentation

Disposition: PERMANENT, transfer to National Archives with transfer of master file.
