

OFFICE OF ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY
(RECORD GROUP 381)

Described below are all remaining unscheduled Job Corps records assigned to RG 381 at the Washington National Records Center. The remaining RG 381 records are on a separate SF 115 because their disposition does not require Department of Labor approval.

Often intermingled with the permanent records are disposable materials which cannot easily be removed until the records are transferred to the National Archives where they can be screened during archival processing. In addition to those records identified in this schedule, the National Archives will remove records authorized for destruction under the following:

1. Records authorized for destruction by SF 115s approved for Office of Economic Opportunity records or for job corps records created by the Manpower Administration of the Department of Labor;
2. Records authorized for destruction by the General Records Schedules, and;
3. Nonrecord including duplicate materials.

General Records

1. Miscellaneous Policy, Planning, and Program Records, 1963-4/1965. 2 cubic feet. Arranged in four subseries and thereunder by subject and thereunder chronologically.

This series includes four small subseries of records, including correspondence, memorandums, reports, and speeches, accumulated by individuals involved in the early stages of planning to implement the President's war on poverty and setting up the Office of Economic Opportunity and the Job Corps. One subseries consists of several folders on various subjects, including the Youth Employment Act of 1963, a Tuskegee Conference on Disadvantage Youth, and Antipoverty efforts in Appalachia. Another subseries is arranged alphabetically by state and contains correspondence during 1964 about setting up the Job Corps program. The third subseries consists of records accumulated by John Rubel, a special consultant to Sargeant Shriver and member of the President's Task Force on the War Against Poverty. These records date from March 1964 through April 1965, and contain information about the task force as well as setting up the Job Corps. Also included is a binder containing early (May-June 1964) planning records. These were created by James Adler, a law clerk to Chief Justice Earl Warren and a consultant to the Job

Corps, and contain copies of memorandums, proposed organizational charts and functional statements, and other records relating to setting up the Job Corps.

2. Miscellaneous Articles and Speeches, 1963-4/1966. 2 cubic feet. Arranged by publication or speech.

Record copy of articles and speeches authored or given by primarily David Gottlieb, who served in various top-level positions in the Job Corps, including as a Special Assistant to the Director, Deputy Director of the Office of Program Development and Analysis, and Chief of Research and Evaluation. Among the articles are Gottlieb's "Pluralism in the Job Corps," American Child (1965); "Teaching and Students: The Views of Negro and White Teachers," Sociology of Education (1964); "regional Differences as a Variable in Sociological Research," Social Problems (1963); "Goal Aspirations and Goal Fulfillments: Differences Between Deprived and Affluent American Adolescents," The American Journal of Orthopsychiatry (1964); and "Racial Composition and the Social Systems of Three High Schools," Journal of Marriage and the Family (1965). Among the speeches given by Gottlieb are "Social Aspects of the Socialization Process," "Education: A View from the Bottom," "A View from the Bottom: The World of Disadvantaged Youth," "Who Am I? Who Cares? The Challenge of Culturally Alienated Youth," and "Poor Youth Do Want to be Middle Class But It's Not Easy." Also included are a few speeches and articles by other Job Corps personnel, and an 'Open Letter,' dated April 14, 1966, to all Job Corps staff signed by Gottlieb and ten other top officials. (After copies are destroyed, this series will comprise about two inches of records.)
