FireCode System

Description of System: FireCode tracks wildland fires for the five wildland fire bureaus and assigns a 4-digit alpha-numeric character (unique to each wildland fire), which is used in the accounting code as a project number. This unique code allows all responding agencies to use that project number within their accounting string to link obligations to a single fire. Firecode use began in October 2003.

FireCode is a BLM –owned system managed at the National Interagency Fire Center in Boise, Idaho. It is part of a web-accessible group of applications under the NIFC External Network – General Support System (NIFCeNET/GSS).

1.a. Master File: The database contains the unique code assigned to a specific fire name, legal location, map coordinate information, jurisdictional agency, date and source of ignition, approximate size, and name of individual entering the data into the system.

Disposition: PERMANENT

Transfer a copy of the master file to the National Archives immediately, along with the technical documentation, in accordance with 36 CFR 1235.44-50. Thereafter, transfer a copy every 5 years, along with the current technical documentation.
