General Land Office (GLO) Records Automation System (GLORAS)

Description of System:

The General Land Office (GLO) Records Automation System (GLORAS) is a web site, database, and image server that provides public online access to land patents, survey plats, field notes and other land status or conveyance records for western Public Land States. Federal Land Patents document information regarding the initial transfer of land titles from the Federal government to individuals. Several types of Federal Land Patents have been issued to individuals from 1820 to present for various purposes, including Cash Entry, Homestead and Military Warrant. Users may search for and retrieve metadata and document images, and place orders on-line for certified copies of land patents. Metadata includes Patentee, Assignee, Warrantee, Widow and/or Heir, together with the transaction date and Legal Land Description. The site contains approximately five million Federal land title records. Although GLORAS does not currently contain every Federal title record issued for the Public Land States, the respective states are continually working to scan and upload BLM's collection.
