52	GEOGRAPHIC INFORMATION SYSTEM (GIS) [9167] A Geographic Information System (GIS) is an automated system designed to capture, store, process, analyze, and display geographically-referenced data. GIS data is used for natural resources-related studies and inventories; planning studies; fish and wildlife projects; and a variety of other uses which involve the analysis of the geographic distribution of data. Products include graphic images (plots), hard copy maps, displays of statistics on data, cartographic products and combinations of these products in reports. Some products created with at GIS are simply screen displays. Other products are outputs of analyses, copies of tabular files, or maps, or files for use in other computer systems. The basic GIS data are retained electronically and are continually updated. Local GIS data is locally stored and managed at BLM field offices. The systems contain information uniquely collected by BLM offices as well as data received from other federal, state and local agencies, and commercial sources. This item applies to GIS layers outside those covered by the Geographic Coordinate Data Base (GCDB, Schedule 30, item 8). Documentation: Metadata requirements apply to all government data and include completed NA-14097 form and copies of instructions on interpretation of source data, applications of data standards, data entry instructions, and similar documentation (regardless of media) necessary for servicing and interpreting the data and day layers. Confidentiality: Some layers or themes will be Discretionary category 2; others will be Nonpublic category 3, depending on the subject matter. Exceptions: The record copy of the output products of a layer or combination of themes which is used for analysis or for making a specific decision, such as a land use plan, an environmental impact assessment, or land use adjudication, is filed as a hard copy with the related project or case file. The record copy of pure data layers is stored on electronic media. Location: All.
	a. Unaltered or minimally altered data layers received from other federal, state and local agencies, and commercial sources. (i.e. no significant additions to data content of unique BLM data or not maintained in support of significant ongoing projects or significant specific decision (see Exceptions)).	TEMPORARY. Maintain until no longer needed for current business. Pending NARA Job No. N1-49-98-##, 20/52a.
