This appraisal report covers those records at the Boston Federal Records Center relating to the New England New York Inter Agency-Committee (NENYIAC) retired by the U.S. Geological Survey.

U.S. Geological Survey Correspondence Files, ca. 1950-56, 3 cu.ft.

Letters, reports, lists, maps, and other correspondence relating to the functions and operations of the Geological Survey within NENYIAC, and in particular to the mapping, water supply, and mineral resources sub-committees. The important data within this series was created by the Department of Interior and its sub-agencies and consists of geological and water supply reports on New England and New York, with maps and overlays; sub-committee reports; critiques of NENYIAC's interim and final reports; correspondence on geological maps and on the role of the USGS within NENYIAC. These records contain both evidential and historical value.
