	(This job supersedes + replaces items 503-6 + 503-13 of NCI-115-77-1) When Bureau of Reclamation R&amp;D Schedules were submitted to NARS for approval, the failure of Teton Dam had not occurred. Since then, a greater awareness of the potential danger to life and property that would occur in the event of another happening such as this, has been recognized. Consequently, Congress passed legislation and the President signed same on November 2, 1978. The Bill, Public Law 95-578, known as the "Reclamation Safety of Dams Act of 1978" charges the Bureau of Reclamation with the responsibility to initiate the work necessary to review Reclamation dams with regard to public safety. Administration of the dam safety program has been assigned to the Bureau's E&amp;R Center in Denver. Part of the records required by and of vital interest to the teams is design data. A concise description of design data follows: Basic design criteria including computations, narrative descriptions, design estimates, tests (lab and soil), curves, and drill logs. Various specification reports, memoranda, tabulations, computer data, and results of these. Also included in design data are drawings, flood hydrology, geologic structure, topographic information, field investigations, maps, charts, and photographs. These are associated with preconstruction activities on all Reclamation projects.		3 items
