Form 12889, IRS Custodial Program – Inspection Report (Custodial Inspection Form)

Background:

IRS historically maintained hard copies of Form 12889 on-site in the basement of Main IRS at 1111 Constitution Avenue, Washington DC. Due to the recent flooding of this location it became imperative that these records be maintained electronically. This form has now been converted to an electronic writable form via PDF.

This form is used to collect information from the custodial inspector to certify that the contractor is performing their tasks as the contract stipulates. This certification is then electronically transmitted to the Contracting Officer's Technical Representative (COTR), and to the Custodial Cleaning Contractor, to verify work as completed and acceptable to the Government.

The Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) requires the retention of this information to be kept 6 years, 3 months after the end of the contract.

Description:

Custodial Inspection Form (Form 12889). Used to collect daily custodial inspection information, including score for accomplishment.

Disposition:

Cut off at the end of the fiscal year in which the contract ends. Destroy 6 years, 3 months after cutoff.
