Background:

The Temporary Scrambled Social Security Number Program (TMPSSN) provides system-generated, serialized temporary scrambled Social Security Numbers (TMPSSN)/Internal Revenue Service Numbers (IRSN) for taxpayers. The IRS processes data using automated systems that require the use of a numeric identifier (e.g., Social Security Number (SSN) and Individual Tax Identification Number (ITIN)). The TMPSSN/IRSN is used to process taxpayer correspondence (e.g., tax forms and refund checks) if no other identifying number can be found. This reduces the cost and time required for processing these documents while ensuring payments are credited accurately and in a timely manner to the proper account.

The IRS may receive a request to assign a TMPSSN/IRSN for any of the following reasons: For a payment being processed by another IRS system where an identifier has not already been provided; For a scrambled condition (same Tax Identification Number (TIN) issued to the taxpayer by the Social Security Administration (SSA)); For a balance due return for a tax filer who failed to put a TIN on the document; For a TIN that has been used more than once and the individual in question is not the taxpayer posted.

The IRS's Entity Control Unit (ECU) receives and processes all requests for a TMPSSN/IRSN for individual taxpayers. A TMPSSN can be assigned only after "complete research" has been conducted on the IRS's Integrated Data Retrieval System (IDRS) by ECU personnel to ensure that no other number (i.e., ITIN, SSN, or TMPSSN/IRSN) has already been assigned to the individual in question. Employees from Input Perfection Operation Reject and Unpostable Groups apply TMPSSN to facilitate establishing accounts where payments/returns may be posted.

Temporary Scrambled Social Security Number Program (TMPSSN)

Description:

The Temporary Scrambled Social Security Number Program (TMPSSN) allows the generation and control of temporary Internal Revenue Service Numbers (IRSNs). The IRSN is needed when taxpayer documents or payments are received from a taxpayer without a valid identifying Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN). The TMPSSN application is also used in the Scrambled Social Security Number (SSN) units when multiple taxpayers are assigned (in error) duplicate SSNs. The TMPSSN generates an IRSN and the Tax Examiner (TE) enters the pertinent taxpayer information within the TMPSSN system. After the taxpayer data is entered, the TE uses the IRSN assigned by the TMPSSN to establish the taxpayer on the Individual Master File (IMF) for processing purposes. The majority of the IRSN requests are received with a Form 8925 Employer Owned Life Insurance Contracts attached. The Form 9956, Internal Revenue Service Number (IRSN) Request Form, is also used to request a TMPSSN.

Disposition: TEMPORARY. Delete/destroy cache file after successful entry and verification into the system.

B. System Data:

The Temporary Scrambled Social Security Number Program (TMPSSN) contains records of tax account information including the following:

- Full Name (First, Middle Initial, Last)
- Address (Street, City, State Abbreviation, Zip Code)
- Identifying Numbers (e.g. TMP-SSN, SSN, IRSN or ITIN)
- Prior Names & SSNs (if applicable)

Disposition: TEMPORARY. Cut-off at end of Processing Year in which account was retired. Delete/Destroy 7 years after cutoff.

C. Outputs:

Primary outputs of the Temporary Scrambled Social Security Number Program (TMPSSN) include:

- Temporary SSN Control Sheet
- Scrambled SSN Control Sheet
- Temporary SSN Alpha Listing
- Scrambled SSN Alpha Listing
- SSA Follow-Up Letter Required Listing
- Weekly Entity Control Automated Inventory Reporting (WECAIR) Program

IRS employees can access and print TMPSSN reports and "screen prints" of individual cases. Managerial and Statistical Reports are also generated from TMPSSN.

Disposition: TEMPORARY. Delete/Destroy reports when 90 days old, or when no longer needed for administrative purposes, whichever is earlier.
