Senior Official Daily Activities

The primary mission of the United States Mint is to produce an adequate volume of circulating coinage for the nation to conduct its trade and commerce. In recent history, circulating coin production has varied between 11 billion and 20 billion coins annually. In addition to producing coins, the United States Mint has other responsibilities, including the following distribution of U.S. coins to the Federal Reserve banks and branches, maintenance of physical custody and protection of the Nation's $100 billion of U.S. gold and silver assets, production of proof and uncirculated coins, commemorative coins, and medals for sale to the general public and the manufacture and sale of platinum, gold, and silver bullion coins. Overseer production facilities in Denver, Philadelphia, San Francisco and West Point, as well as the U.S. Bullion Depository at Fort Knox, Kentucky, and receiving, redeeming, and processing mutilated coins.

1. High Level Officials (Record Copy)

These paper files contain substantive information documenting the official activities performed by senior officials of the United States Mint. High level officials include United States Mint Director, Deputy Director, Associate Director's, Deputy Associate Director, and Assistant Directors. Files consist of calendars, appointment books, schedules, logs, diaries, and other records documenting meetings, appointments, telephone calls, trips, visits, and other activities while serving in an official capacity.

CUTOFF: File chronologically by month. Cutoff at the end of the calendar year.

DISPOSITION: Permanent. Retire to the Federal Records Center 2 years after cutoff. Transfer to NARA 8 years after cutoff.

2. Electronic Mail and Word Processing System Copies

DISPOSITION: Temporary.
