Integrated Revenue Information System (IRIS)

The Homeland Security Act of 2002 established the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Bureau (TTB) to perform the tax collection functions for the Department of the Treasury with respect to those industries and entities that derive revenue through alcohol, tobacco, firearms and explosives. Through the National Revenue Center, TTB processes industry applications/requests to operate, processes tax returns, collects taxes, and collects penalties and interest when necessary, processes claims made by industry members; evaluates operational reports of industry members, approves various forms and documents subsequent to approval to operate; and provides instructions and assistance to industry members.

System Description:

The Integrated Revenue Information System (IRIS) ensures fair and proper collection of revenue from the industry members for alcohol, tobacco, firearms, and ammunition excise taxes. IRIS is the primary tool by which the Alcohol, Tobacco, Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB) records and tracks applications, permits and industry production associated with the Bureau’s regulated industry members. IRIS collects and manages key information on regulated industry members, including members authorized to operate, reports of operations and taxes owed. The agency compiles statistical data, analyzes trends and monitors the regulated industry with reports generated from the system.

IRIS contains the following component activities: Federal Exercise Tax (FET) System (revised), Industry Statistics System (ISTAT)(Revised), Electronic Forms Acceptance and Processing System (EFAPS), Technical Services System (TSS), and Automated Commercial System (ACS).
