1.	Integrated Airman Certification and Rating Application (IACRA) (80007) IACRA acts as a temporary repository for Airman registration and application data. This data's permanent repository is within the Airman Registry. As a result, for a period of time, Airman application and registration data is duplicated between IACRA and the Airman registry with IACRA housing the redundant copy. Airman Registry houses the permanent data once transferred from IACRA. IACRA allows airmen to complete the 8710 (and other related certification applications) electronically via the internet rather than using a paper application. This includes the various roles (Designated Examiner, Recommending Instructor, etc.) necessary through the application process. Applications are also digitally signed by the necessary parties in IACRA. IACRA abides by the same regulations applied by examiners at the Airman Registry.	New Item 80007
