Background Information The Office of Inspector General (OIG) was established by law in 1978 to provide the Secretary and Congress with independent and objective reviews of the efficiency and effectiveness of the Department of Transportation (DOT) operations and programs and to detect and prevent fraud, waste, and abuse. The Inspector General Act of 1978, as amended, requires the OIG to: (1) conduct independent and objective audits and investigations; (2) promote economy, efficiency, and effectiveness; (3) prevent and detect waste, fraud, and abuse; (4) review pending legislation and regulations; and (5) keep the Secretary and Congress fully and currently informed.

The OIG's Office of Auditing and Evaluation conducts audits and other reviews of DOT's transportation programs and activities to ensure they operate economically, efficiently, and effectively. OIG audits cover all of DOT's transportation sectors, from aviation, highways, railroads and mass transit, to motor carriers, maritime shipping, pipelines and transportation research. The Office of Investigations is comprised of criminal and general investigators who are responsible for conducting criminal, civil, and administrative investigations of fraud and a variety of other allegations affecting DOT, its operating administrations, programs, and grantees (grant funds). The Office of Investigations' top priorities involve crimes with a public safety impact, fraud schemes that significantly impact DOT funds, and employee integrity violations.

This schedule covers records of the Departmental Headquarters offices and the Regional field offices.
