Social Security Administration Title VIII SVB Claims Development System (SVB) and the Management Information System (Website/Intranet)

SSA Title VIII Claims Development System

This system, which uses the medium of the Social Security Claims File (N1-047-05-1) to collect and store SVB records, contains all information necessary and vital to processing an SVB claim and includes identifying information such as the applicant's name, Social Security Number (SSN) and date of birth (DOB); telephone number (if any); foreign and domestic addresses; the applicant's sex; and other information provided by the applicant, relative to his or her entitlement for SVB.

In cases where an applicant’s claim for SVB benefits is denied, this system of records will include the denial reason and date and any information relative to the appellate process. There will also be a number of data elements in the proposed system pertinent to the beneficiary’s continued eligibility. These include payment, foreign residence information and other elements that will help regional and local offices maintain the tracking and management information required to administer the SVB program efficiently.

If the beneficiary has a representative payee, the system of records will maintain data about the representative payee such as the payee’s SSN, employer identification number, if applicable; mailing address/residence; DOB; and place of birth.

Further, SSA will maintain this SVB information about the claimant in the proposed new system of records and the altered system of records in electronic form, in the computer data systems, and in paper form.

Management Information System (Website/Intranet)

All information in this system of records is maintained under the claimant/beneficiary’s name and SSN. The system of records is designed to permit electronic entry and retrieval of claims development and tracking and management information about Title VIII SVB claims. This electronic record contains data applicable to the Special Veterans’ eligibility for Title VIII SVB and facilitates efforts to control and track this workload from the initial inquiry and application to further development.

The system of records also maintains information about the implementation of Title VIII to permit allocation of resources, budget projections and workload management. The information contained in this system of records is centralized on a website allowing access by the regional and field offices to nationally consolidated data.

Proposed Disposition:

Subject to specific exceptions determined by SSA whereby records would be retained for a longer period of time, SSA will adhere to the following disposition schedule:
Disposition Instructions

1. Inputs

Disposition. TEMPORARY. Delete/destroy after record keeping copy has been placed in the claim file and verified.

2. Claim File

A. Denied Claims:

1) Hard copies:

Disposition: TEMPORARY. Destroy 2 years after the adjudication date.

3) For machine-readable records, word processing, e-mail, and other office automation systems:

Disposition: TEMPORARY. Delete when file copy is generated and verified, or when administrative need no longer exists for reference or update, whichever is later.

B. Awarded claims:

2) The SSA Supplemental Security Record formatted as a Special Veterans Benefit Record:

Disposition: TEMPORARY. Destroy 6 years after the adjudication date of the most recently awarded claim, provided the claim does not contain post entitlement material less than 6 years old.

3) Data compiled from SSA 2000 Forms and entered as data files on SSA’s Special Veterans Benefits Intranet site.

4) For post-entitlement records:

Disposition: TEMPORARY Cutoff when the system is superseded and/or replaced. Delete/destroy 2 years after cutoff date or when no longer needed for reference, whichever is later.

5. Exceptions:

Any claims or post entitlement folder or documentation where fraud or abuse is under investigation or legal action is underway, and/or anyone on the record is or potentially could be affected by a court case (including class actions), will be retained until the conclusion of the investigation or legal action. This is true for both awarded and denied claims.

1. When there is an underpayment outstanding, the claim will not be destroyed until 2 years after that individual's termination event.

2. When there is an overpayment outstanding, the claim will not be destroyed until 10 years after all collection actions have terminated.

3. For entitled beneficiaries: In those limited situations where SSA's electronic file contains insufficient information for maintenance of the record (e.g., paper special determination material), the hardcopies will not be destroyed until 2 years after the final determination date.

4. Transaction information and payment histories for awarded claims, including those currently in pay status, are maintained until no longer needed for reference or update purposes on SSA's electronic databases (Supplemental Security Record formatted as a Special Veterans Benefit Record).
General Counsel Statement

I have reviewed the records and their respective proposed dispositions. I am of the opinion that the records will be maintained for a period of time sufficient to protect the legal and financial rights of the government and of the people directly affected by the Agency's activities.
