8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM
(STILL PICTURE FILES)

These records document changes in agriculture and the work of the Office of Agricultural and Chemical Development over a span of 50 years. They contain information that shows how TVA carries out its program to evaluate and introduce new forms of fertilizer and their effective use in farming systems all over the United States; to provide leadership and technical help in the conduct of activities to achieve optimum use, conservation, and management of agricultural resources in the Tennessee Valley; and to further regional and national economic objectives. The series consists of black and white negatives, color slides and lantern slides.

This series can be broken into the following four groups:

- 1965 to Present - Consists of 769 black and white entries (about 53,000 35mm negatives) and 821 color entries (about 26,000 35mm transparencies). This group is the source for photographs used in the Office of Agriculture and Chemical Development publications, exhibits, and audio visual presentations.

The changes made to this proposed schedule have been approved by:
NARA appraiser date Agency Representative date
3. 1930's-1940's - Approximately 200 4 X 5 glass plates. Some are original color, some black and white, and some are hand colored black and white transparencies.

4. Various dates (some as early as 1920's) - Black and white negatives, 35mm transparencies and prints (approximately 6000).
