	Work Plans Work plans are detailed written procedures by which work is planned, approved, and performed. All modifications and construction completion work is performed according to an approved work plan. A work plan basically consists of written work instructions, design drawings, and tests or inspections to verify satisfactory completion of the work. Approximately 10 cubic feet exists at present. Work plans explain the incorporation of modifications into existing plant systems. Work plans may also be used to authorize and control activities other than modifications such as completion of construction as originally designed and access for crafts to support other work. Work plans are quality assurance records and are required by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. Disposition: Retain for life of plant.		withdrawn 2/17/81 RTB
