Schedule Subject Landmark Events

Background Information This schedule covers landmark or significant cases or matters such as investigations or litigations that involve persons or companies in violation of the Commodity Exchange Act or Commission regulations; significant litigation activities to which the Commission or Commission staff are a party; or audits or investigations of agency employees or contractors and others associated with CFTC programs and operations which have a significant outcome.

As a regulator, CFTC comes across situations in which ordinary, routine activities may shed light on or document events or periods of market upheaval, illicit actions or other items of significant impact to the markets or that may be of significant interest to the public. The updated schedule is designed to cover those events, actions or activities or circumstances that are perceived to be of historical value and warrant permanent retention. The schedule will also consolidate those events into one overarching schedule as they have similar criteria.
