A.	The Office of Navajo and Hopi Indian Relocation (ONHIR) Client Information System was developed in 1985 by agency staff. The system provides information used by the staff at various stages of a client's processing. This includes the tracking of payments made to and on behalf of the client, tracking through the certification, counseling, and housing process, and post-move services. The client data bases are on an IBM AS400. The AS400, 9402-400 model 42G is an IBM midrange computer. Programs written in the AS400 Query, RPG, and NATIVE 400 languages are used to manipulate the data. On the AS400 data is stored in EBCDIC, which is an acceptable format according to 36 CFR 1228.270(d). Information found in the AS400 System is subject to the Privacy Act. Inputs: Client Case files: 4,813 individual client case files in a numbered sequence, beginning with file #001 and currently through file #4813. The first application for relocation assistance benefits was accepted in 1977. This series in Agency NR NUME

B.	will continue until the closure of the ONHIR or until a date is established that the agency will cease to accept requests for relocation assistance benefits pursuant to 25 CFR §138. These client files contain individual applications for relocation assistance benefits, documentation relating to a determination of eligibility or denial of benefits, documents relating to the appeals of individual denials of requests for benefits through Final Agency Action and/or entry of judgment in the U.S. District Court. Documentation of the client's transition through the counseling phases of the relocation process, the housing acquisition process, (on-reservation homesite lease acquisition and off-reservation real estate purchase); post-move counseling services and warranty services. These files are subject to the Federal Privacy Act. Note: Textual Client Case Files. See Relocation Operations SF 115. (NARA Job No. NI-220-02-1, item 1a) JUA Roster (Joint Use Area): This series consists of 3 – 8½ x11 black binders which contain approximately 100 sheets per binder. These sheets are copies of the actual reports generated by the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) through their JUA Office in its 1974-75 "on the ground" enumeration of those individuals and properties situated within the 1.8 million acre JUA of the Navajo and Hopi Indian Reservations. These rosters are arranged numerically by Quarter Quad Location (QQL) number. Note: Textual JUA Roster. See Relocation Operations SF 115. (NARA Job No. NI-220-02-1, item 3a) Report and Plan-Navajo and Hopi Indian Relocation, April, 1981. Note: Textual Report and Plan. See Administrative Services SF 115. (NHIRC/ONHIR Reports). "A" and "B" Lists These lists were generated as a result of the mediation in Manybeads v U.S. A list was drawn up for individuals who permanently resided on the Hopi Partitioned Lands ("A" List) and those individuals potentially subject to relocation ("B" List). Note: ^{disposition of the} The textual records of the "A" and "B" Lists ^{are pending the} is a non-record for the ONHIR completion of a SF 115. The ONHIR is proposing permanent retention of these documents. Data Base: Client Data Bases The most extensive records created by the ONHIR information system are data bases which record client information. The data bases can be combined in various ways to produce reports used by staff and by management to display selected data on the computer monitor. Certain data bases are "dynamic" that is, information is continually added to the fields as new information is gathered or existing information changes. Other data bases are "static" one-time entry of data which is not subject to change. These data bases are:	CITATION

B1.	Index to Client Case Files. Two electronic retrieval systems for Client Case Files. A case file number can be retrieved alphabetically by the surname of the client and by the client's census number. Data is inputted into these files at the time the client makes application for relocation benefits. The ONHIR will continue to maintain this data base until it closes.	CITATION
B2.	RC.300 Client Master Data Base. It captures most significant data gathered on all applications and filed in the manual case file. For example, name, tribal census number, birth date, household membership, employment and income. In addition to the information, which identifies the client and his/her family, the data base records agency decisions about case and case processing actions. For example, date of application, eligibility decision and date, date of contract signing, date of relocation, date of case closure. Demographic information on the client/household is updated until the client signs the relocation contract. Post-contract data entry is restricted primarily to certain post-move agency actions on the case, until it is closed. Cases can be reopened for action and data entry upon valid request.
B3.	RC.305 Client Member File. It contains the names, census numbers, and date of birth for members of the client's immediate household and identifies those members who are relocating with the client.
B4.	RC.390 JUA Roster Data. An electronic file of the JUA Roster that contains the date of enumeration, demographic information, QQL, age, and household membership. This file was created to record the information contained in the JUA Roster. (See Relocation Operations SF 115 for disposition of textual record).
B5.	RC.0388 JUA Match Data Base. Created to match information from the Client Master Data Base (RC.0300) to the computerized JUA record data.
B6.	RC.950 JUA/Client Census Match Data Base. This matches the client's census number to the census data collected during the JUA enumeration roster.
B7.	RC.0955 JUA/Client Key Cross Reference Data Base. This cross-links the client case number to the JUA. Disposition: Permanent. Transfer to the National Archives and Records Administration upon the closure of the ONHIR.
C.	Data Base: Client Eligibility, Hopi Partitioned Land (HPL) Residency, and Certification Data Bases. The following data bases track and document the client's movement through the relocation process from the initial determination of the residency, certification and appeal processes.
C1.	RC.0370 Certification Master Data Base. It provides comprehensive information from the manual file about the processing of applications for an eligibility determination.

C2.	RC.0380 Hearing Data Base. It contains a record of the activity regarding cases which are denied eligibility for benefits and the processing of the case through the administrative appeal process and Final Agency Action.	CITATION
C3.	RC.385 Attorney Data Base Contains the names and addresses of attorneys representing clients during the appeal process and/or other action against the ONHIR. Information from this file is merged with correspondence issued during the course of legal actions.
C4.	RC.0311 Quarter Quad Master Data Base This is a record of client's homesite quarter quad location (QQL) on the JUA mapping system. Pulls into the Client Master Data Base (RC.300).
C5.	RC.0328 HPL Code Historic Detail Base Provides information about the changes made to electronic records about the client's residence on/off of the HPL.
C6.	This is comprised of 6 data bases created to record information about a one-time project in 1984-85 to review all files for eligibility determinations; record the information required to complete the file; and, record the information submitted by the clients: a. RC.0369 Certification Assigned Data Base b. RC.0371 Intake Letter Data Base c. RC.0372 Certification Document Profile d. RC.0373 Intake Worker Control Data Base e. RC.0374 Intake Assignment Data Base f. RC.0376 User Client Data Base
C7.	RC.0393 Camp Count Total Data Base Provides information from a one-time project in 1983 to identify the HPL homesites of all clients.
C8.	RC.0310 Appraisal Master Data Base Summary of information about improvements owned by clients on the HPL, general location, value, data acquired by the ONHIR, and the date it was turned over to the Hopi Tribe.
C9.	RC.0367 Confirmation Letters Generated Data Base Provides automatic record of letters issued to clients, using word processing merge, to set up interviews.
D.	Disposition: Permanent. Transfer to the National Archives and Records Administration upon the closure of the ONHIR.
D.	Data Base: Relocation Operations (Counseling and Pre-Move). These data bases were created so that the counseling staff could input information relating to the client's relocation preference, adaptability to the site, and other related information. The following are included within this category.
D1.	RC.0309 Client Permanent Address Data Base Contains the permanent address for all clients.

D2.	RC.0434 Appeal Letter Request Data Base. Automatically generates form letters to clients during the administrative appeals process.	CITATION
D3.	RC.0352 Client & Member Name Data Base. Contains the name and case file number of clients. The name is inputted in the following order: first, middle, last.
D4.	RC.0375 Counseling Data Base. Contains information about the case processing activity during the counseling phase of the relocation process.
D5.	RC.0360 Demographics Master Data Base. Records information about the clients' education, employment and/or training, which is utilized during the counseling phase.
D6.	RC.0365 Demographics Information Data Base. Contains information about the education, employment, and training of the relocatee's household members.
D7.	RC.0998 Post-Move Alert/Referral Cases. This data base automatically generates notices to inform assigned staff persons that a client has entered the post-move stage of case processing and that a summary report is due.
D8.	RC.0398 Client Data Base. A data base intended to record information about the client's past grazing history. This data base was never used.
D9.	RC.0340 Contact Data Base. This provides a running record of contacts between ONHIR staff and clients.
D10.	RC.0315 On-Res Lease Data Base. Tracks the progress of a client's application for an on-reservation homesite lease.
D11.	RC.0317 Housing Condition Survey Data Base. Information compiled as a result of client's current housing conditions (pre-move).
D12.	RC.0321 Pre-Move Location Description Data Base. Contains the client's pre-relocation residence and directions to the home.
D13.	RC.0322 Post-Move Location Description Data Base. Contains the geographic location of the relocation home and directions to the home.
D14.	RC.0324 Pre-Move Action Code Data Base. Contains the actions required to move the client's case to the next phase of the case processing along with the dates the actions were initiated and completed.
D15.	RC.0325 Case Narrative File. A narrative created in the word processing feature of the AS400. The narrative describes the client's case activity and is printed and filed in the Client Case File. An electronic copy is not maintained in the AS400 system.
