STANDARD FORM SF 115 (REV. 3-91)

Prescribed by NARA 36 CFR 1228
The National Commission to Ensure Consumer Information and Choice in the Airline Industry

The establishment of the National Commission to Ensure Consumer Information and Choice in the Airline Industry ("Airline Consumer Information and Choice Commission" or "Commission"), was directed by Section 228 of the Wendell H. Ford Aviation Investment and Reform Act for the 21st Century (AIR-21), Pub.L. 106-181 (April 5, 2000).

The Commission studied (1) whether the financial condition of travel agents is declining and, if so, the effect that this will have on consumers; and (2) whether there are impediments to information regarding the services and products offered by the airline industry and, if so, the effects of those impediments on travel agents, Internet-based distributors, and consumers. In conducting the study, the Commission paid special attention to the condition of small travel agents (i.e., those travel agencies with $1,000,000 or less in annual revenues).

Based on the results of the study, the Commission, through its Chairperson, submitted its report including recommendations to improve the condition of travel agents and consumer access to travel information, to the President of the United States and to the Congress within six month after completion of the initial appointments of members, and terminated on the 30th day after submitting the report, as provided in Section 228 of AIR-21.
