CHAPTER 25. SECURITY PROGRAM RECORDS

1. General. This chapter provides documentation, maintenance, and disposition instructions for security program records. These instructions are contained in appendix 25-A.

2. Reserved.

This appendix describes information and personnel security program records. Information security includes the identification, classification, downgrading or declassification, dissemination, and safeguarding of classified information in the interest of national defense. Personnel security is concerned with measures designed to ensure that occupants of, or applicants for, positions requiring access to classified information meet security standards. Security program records are created as a result of responsibilities outlined in the GSA Organization Manual (OFA P 5440.1); provisions of GSA orders and handbooks in the 1025 subject classification series; and the GSA Administrative Manual, ch. 8 (OAD P 5410.1). These records are accumulated by offices of the GSA Security Officer, Central Office; and regional office document security officers; and individuals designated as Top Secret control officers. Documents accumulated by other offices in administering security matters are described in ch. 9 of this handbook.
