FEDERAL PREVAILING RATE ADVISORY COMMITTEE (FPRAC)
The committee was established by the Civil Service Commission in 1968 as the National Wage Policy Committee, pursuant to P.L. 92-392 (Chapter 53, 5 U.S.C., subchapter IV, as amended). In 1972 it was renamed the Federal Prevailing Rate Advisory Committee. It is composed of a chairman, representatives from five labor unions holding exclusive bargaining rights for Federal blue-collar employees, and representatives from five Federal agencies. The committee's primary responsibility is to review the prevailing rate system and other matters pertinent to establishing prevailing rates, and from time to time advise the OPM. The mandate of the committee is one of a continuing nature until amended or revoked by appropriate Act of Congress. The committee is an independent body that reports directly to the President and Congress, and OPM. The committee is re-chartered in September of even years.

Included are proposals and approvals to establish the committee; charters, terms of reference, and comments on them; directives establishing, changing, continuing, or dissolving the committee; biographical information on Commissioners; and, documents nominating, approving, appointing, and relieving committee members. Volume is approximately 3 cubic feet; arrangement is by year(s). Dates are 1968 to present.

Disposition. PERMANENT. Transfer to NARA when the committee permanently ceases to exist.
