OFFICE OF GOVERNMENT ETHICS

The Office of Government Ethics (OGE), previously a part of the Office of Personnel Management, was established as a separate executive agency on October 1, 1989 under the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, as amended (5 U.S.C. app. 401). OGE provides overall direction of executive branch policies in preventing conflicts of interest on the part of officers and employees of all executive agencies. The office is the principle agency for administering the Ethics in Government Act for the executive branch.

PROGRAM REVIEW DIVISION

Program Review Division (PRD) conducts on-site headquarters and regional ethics program reviews to determine whether an agency has an effective ethics program tailored to its mission.

- 1A Audit reports: The audit report file includes a report evaluating an agency ethics program compliance with ethics regulations in the areas of financial disclosure, orientational and annual education and training, counseling and advice, its relationship with the inspector's general office, and reporting and managing the GSA travel program. The report contains a conclusion and recommendations. The file also includes a response from the agency addressing the recommendations, a six month follow up report, and any other correspondences or reports created in order to close out the recommendations.

~~Permanent: Cut off when all recommendations are closed. Retire to WNRC 10 years after cut off. Transfer to NARA 20 years after cut off.~~ Transfer to the National Archives in five year blocks when the most recent record is 15 years old.

Media neutral notification processed on 9/8/16.

-Rania Mahmoud, 9/15/16

- 1B Work papers: Includes correspondences between OGE and the agency, copies of regulations that pertain to the specific agency, copies of agency documentation which show how the agency manages its ethics program, copies of financial disclosure agreements, and agency exceptions to ethics related regulations, and other records.
