

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1904.

search of bodies to make of identification, reports that about $180,000 worth of jewelry and money, or bank books representing money, was found upon the bodies.

FIRE STARTED IN POT OF GREASE.

According to Rev. Dr. Haa, the fire started in the gallery from a pot of boiling fat when the boat was off the sunken meadows, opposite One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street. Instead of running his boat ashore at One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street, Capt. Van Schaick beached his boat at another place, a mile or more from the shore, and the boat was destroyed.
