passport; and daughter Dolores is holder of passport D-63429. INTERIAN's brother, Guadencio, is a diplomatic courier and was born on 18 February 1927; in May 1963 he traveled to Switzerland, in October 1963 to Zurich and Prague, and from 14 to 16 January 1964 traveled to Djakarta, Canton, and Hanoi. His brother Armando was the secretary general of the Guanabacoa Regional Committee of the Partido Socialista Popular (PSP). Armando spoke at a meeting of the Jóvenes Socialistas in Regla and condemned the landing of United States troops in Lebanon, praised Soviet policy, and called upon the Cuban Communists to initiate an intensive propaganda campaign against the United States/United Kingdom intervention in the Near East. In September 1963, Armando was reportedly the leader of the Organizaciones Revolucionarias Integradas.

3. A group of Cuban emigre's trained in the techniques of information collection and who have provided useful reports for two years said in a report dated 19 March 1964, that Elpidio INTERIAN Comezanas is a G-2 agent in the Cuban Embassy in Mexico who deals directly with the Ambassador. INTERIAN was described as a rough, reserved individual with a sickly wife who is rarely seen.
