1. AUTHORITY

The Central Intelligence Agency was established by and functions under the National Security Council by authority of the National Security Act of 1947 (61 Stat. 495; 50 U.S.C. 401-403), as amended; the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949 (63 Stat. 208; 50 U.S.C. 403a-j); and other pertinent legislation.

2. MISSION

The Central Intelligence Agency, under the direction of the National Security Council and within the limitations of applicable legislation and directives, has the following duties and responsibilities:

- a. Advises the National Security Council in matters concerning such intelligence activities of the Government departments and agencies as relate to national security.
- b. Makes recommendations to the National Security Council for the coordination of such intelligence activities of the departments and agencies of the Government as relate to the national security.
- c. Correlates and evaluates intelligence relating to the national security, and provides for the appropriate dissemination of such intelligence within the Government using, where appropriate, existing agencies and facilities.
- d. Performs, for the benefit of the existing intelligence agencies, such additional services of common concern as the National Security Council determines can be more efficiently accomplished centrally.
- e. Performs such other functions and duties related to intelligence affecting the national security as the National Security Council may from time to time direct.

3. FUNCTIONS

- a. The Director of Central Intelligence is the head of the Central Intelligence Agency.
- b. The Deputy Director of Central Intelligence, whose position is established by the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, acts for, and exercises the powers of, the Director during his absence or disability. As the Deputy to the Director, he performs such duties as the Director may direct.

INSPECTOR GENERAL

4. MISSION

The Inspector General is charged with conducting inspections and investigations on behalf of the Director throughout the Agency, both at headquarters and in the field.

5. FUNCTIONS

The Inspector General shall:

- a. Survey and evaluate the assignment and performance of the missions and functions prescribed for all components of the Agency and recommend to the Director such improvements as may assist them more fully to perform their appropriate functions.
- b. Be responsible for investigations of fraud, misuse of funds, conflicts of interest, and other matters involving misfeasance, malfeasance, nonfeasance, or violations of trust.
- c. Provide a forum where Agency personnel may, on a highly confidential basis, confide grievances or complaints which have not received satisfactory consideration through regular channels of command or through the procedures provided for in CIA Regulation No. 20-8.
- d. Maintain and control all liaison with the President's Board of Consultants on Foreign Intelligence Activities.
- e. Perform such other functions as may be determined by the Director.

SPECIAL ASSISTANT FOR PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT

6. MISSION

The Special Assistant for Planning and Development is charged with assisting the Director of Central Intelligence in planning Agency activities and is responsible for general supervision of all research and development activities of the Agency and the development of fresh approaches to the tasks of the Agency.

7. FUNCTIONS

The Special Assistant for Planning and Development shall:

- a. Develop and recommend policies and plans for Agency activities.
- b. Furnish guidance regarding the long-range plans of the Agency.
- c. Conduct program analysis, as directed by the Director of Central Intelligence.
- d. Review all programs covering research and development activities and direct or disapprove the undertaking or modification of research and development, subject to coordination with the Deputy Director concerned where changes in research and development would have a significant effect on organizations or operations.
