of effecting recruitments. If required, we will have a Coban who knows the individuals and whom they believe to be a Cuban Intelligence officer go to for the purpose of contacting them under controlled conditions which will permit us to monitor the conversation during the time that he poees as still active in Cubia intelligence. Following this, the recruitment attempt would be made in each case possibly by one of our officers if the circumstances should be to achieve contacts with them for the purpose at the time indicate that this procedure would be most likely to be a success.

B. Without waiting for the outcome of effort to recruit the four individuals described above, the should bend every effort to locate all those individuals (possibly as many as 200) who have received guerrilla warfare training in Cuba, and to arrest them. Maximum publicity should be given to the arrests once they have been questioned. Hopefully declarations will be made by some of them which will assist in effective propaganda use of their arrest and their involvement in subversion on behalf of the Castro government. They should be interviewed separately and, if possible, some with greater potential should be doubled so that they may serve to keep us informed of plans for subversion in the future. should keep us advised at C.
