The captioned individual is a [station manager of] the Cubana Airlines, Idlewild International Airport, New York City. Recently Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) submitted a name check request concerning [Beliard]. Liaison was requested to determine the purpose of this request. (C)

(C) On June 23, 1961, Mrs. Jane Roman, CIA, advised the Liaison Agent that a Cuban source had suggested to CIA that [Beliard] possibly could be of some use to the Agency in connection with its operations in Cuba. Mrs. Roman stated that essentially CIA's interest would be to obtain assistance from [Beliard].

(C) [redacted] CIA is of the opinion that [Beliard] through his contacts in the Cubana Airlines and because of his possible association with individuals who travel regularly between the two countries, could arrange for CIA [redacted].

(C) The Liaison Agent requested CIA not to establish any contact with [Beliard] pending further word from the Bureau. (S)

The above information is being directed to the attention of the Nationalities Intelligence Section for appropriate review. We can either (1) inform CIA that no contact whatsoever should be made by CIA with [Beliard] in view of current Bureau operational interest, or (2) we can permit CIA to maintain contact with [Beliard] for exploration of its interests as described above, or (3) we can talk to [Beliard] concerning the [redacted] and serve as the intermediary if [Beliard] is in a position to be of assistance in this regard. Replies to CIA should be handled via Liaison. (S)
