4. Diem expressed his frustration with the new US proposals to CAS on November 27. Compared Taylor Mission to Marshall China Mission; reiterated view that good people hard to find to whom authority can be delegated; deplored fanfare of Staley program and failure aid to materialize; said difficulties with Cabinet which would have resulted had he shown them the new US proposals; expressed frustration at dealing with US press representatives. deep concern to New Zealand. Anything we can do to help them, not only in their present plight but also in pressing on with economic development and raising their living standards, is in our own interests as well as theirs."

7. The Prime Minister of Australia, Mr. R. G. Menzies, has informed the Secretary that "I have put under immediate study your proposals for action to help South Viet-Nam counter Viet-Cong insurgency. In general, they seem admirably adapted to meeting a very difficult situation. 8. Viewing with "profound concern the deteriorating situation" in SVN Foreign Secretary Serrano of the Philippines reportedly said, "...we are still studying in what form and manner the Philippines could chip in. For the moment we are not thinking of military or economic matters. There is the possibility of sending nurses and doctors..." The Embassy reports that despite apparently lack of immediate response to US course of action in SVN, Serrano appeared pleased at Ambassador Hickerson's outline of US decisions.
