SELECT COMMITTEE ON ASSASSINATIONS

Name James Robert Todd Date May 9, 1978 Time 10:15 a.m.
 Address 2834 Oates Dr Place Offices of his attorney
2438 Oak Drive 267 N. Exchange St.
Dallas, Texas (357-5676)

Interview: On May 9, 1978 Staff Investigators Joseph J. Basteri and Albert Maxwell interviewed James Robert Todd in the offices of his attorney Jerry Biesel. Mr. Todd states that he is self-employed and heads the Todd Oil and Investment Co. Inc., located at 6116 North Central Expressway, Dallas, Texas. (Tel:214/369-6585).

Todd states that he was born in Groesbeck, Texas and came to Dallas in 1939 and was arrested soon after as he was mistaken for Henry Noble, a known criminal in the area. While in jail he met Lois Green and their friendship continued until Lois Green was killed by an unknown assailant on December 24, 1949.

While mention was made that Lois Green headed a gang that was operating in and about the Dallas area, Todd did not subscribe to this description of Lois Green. Todd states that the Green gang is nothing but propaganda generated by the local press. There was no such organized crime but only a group of fellows who hung out together. These men may have committed crimes together but it was not under the direction of Lois Green. A few minutes later, while denying organized crime existed in Dallas, he remarked that whenever anyone tried to move in we would visit these persons to inform them that Dallas is their territory and for them to get out of town and find their own territory.

Todd admitted that in the 30's and early 40's Dallas was a wide open town until a reform district attorney by the name of Will Wilson cleaned up the town.

To illustrate how he and Lois Green had no law enforcement or political connections, Todd suggested we check their arrest records which will disclose the countless times they had been arrested for vagrancy. He pointed out that if anyone had any connections they would certainly not be harrassed by the police department in such a manner.

Todd answered that he does not know the following named persons: Irwin Weiner, Lenny Patrick, Sam Yaras, Barney Baker, Harry Hall, Alex Gruber, Ralph Paul, Robert Ray McKeown, Andrew Armstrong, Tom Eli Davis III, William Cies, Harry Olsen and James Braden. His answer as to his relationship with the following persons are:

Lewis McWillie - Only knew him as a crap player and gambler. Never associated with him.

George Senator - Only knew him as a person who would sell clothing; has bought a few suits from him.

George Butler - Only knew him as a police officer and he was always "tailing me."

Morgan Brown - Todd said he met him for the first time two or three months ago in Dallas. The meeting concerns some oil properties that a doctor friend of his invested $30,000 in. After some negotiations by Todd, Morgan returned the $30,000 back to the doctor.

William Decker - Only knew him as a police officer. He had a reputation of being a good, firm man. Word was also out that Fritz was not a man to fool around with.

Jettie Bass - He is dead now. Died of a heart attack a few years ago. He was an Indian. Todd knew him as a burglar.

Nick Cascio - Describes him as a very nice guy until someone crosses him and then he could be very tough. Has known him for 35 years. Todd last saw him three or four months ago and is in bad health with cancer. He said Cascio was a burglar.

Angelo Thomas Casten.--States he only knows him from the Dallas area.

Hollis de Lois Green - Has known him since 1939 and lists him as one of his best friends. He would not go into too much detail as to what type association they had but only constantly praised Lois Green as being a "great guy."

Ray Brondo - A used car salesman; hasn't seen him in 25 years.

R.D. Mathews - Todd states he knew Mathews very well. When we attempted to question him regarding any illegal activity he and Mathews were engaged in during the Green

Todd replied, "Let's just say we were social friends and leave it at that."

James Henry Dolan - Only knew him as a casual friend.

Paul Roland Jones - Had known him for two or three years.

Did not know too much about him but questioned the fact that Ruby associated with Jones. Todd said that Jones was not the type to have Ruby around him because of his (Ruby's) association with the police.

Joe Bonds - Todd said he knew him as a night club operator and that Lois Green was killed outside of Bond's night club.

Campisi - Todd said he is just a guy who runs a restaurant.

Never associates with him but has eaten in his restaurant.

It must be noted that Todd was purposely vague about describing details of the persons that he was associated with. He also would not go into too many facts concerning any illegal activities with the exception of admitting to two crimes that he had committed. One was for the crime of homicide and the other was a burglary. He was convicted and served time for both crimes. The details Todd gave concerning his homicide arrest was as follows: Todd stated that on September 3, 1953, while seated in a restaurant, a man entered, and without any provocation, proceeded to cut Todd on the side of his throat and other parts of his body. Todd ran outside, bleeding profusely, obtained a gun from R.D. MATHEWS, fired one shot into the air to make certain the gun was in working order and then entered the premises and shot said assailant to death. He was arrested and served two years for this crime. On November 22, 1961 he received a full pardon for this crime. The other crime Todd admitted to was when he was arrested for burglary by throwing a rock through a window and stealing $500 which he gave to a friend who needed the money.

Todd denied ever being engaged in safe cracking activities although his arrest record discloses 4 arrests for transporting explosives indicating the arrests may have been for carrying nitro, an explosive commonly used by safe crackers for blowing up safes.

Since the death of Lois Green in 1949 Todd said he began to break away from what he was doing and decided to get a job. He worked at different places until finally he went into the oil business and has been extremely successful in that field. Mr. Biesel, Todd's attorney, had quoted to us during an earlier interview that Todd is now a millionaire. He heads the _____ located at 6116 North Expressway, Dallas, Texas.

When asked about Sue's Used Car Lot, Todd replied that he was very familiar with the place as he worked there as a salesman for several years. The car lot was operated by Sue Southerland who later married Harry Hammond. They are still married and she is presently the Vice President of the Merchants Bank.

Todd described Sue Hammond as an extremely honest person who would never be involved in any dishonest act. Todd denied that the Sue's Used Car Lot was used as a hangout for his cronies and that while there they planned illegal activities. Todd denied these charges, explaining that the purpose he obtained this job for was to offset the frequent arrests for vagrancy that he was receiving from the Dallas Police Department. He also would not allow any of his friends to use these premises for a hangout out of respect for Sue Hammond as he knew she would not approve of it and he did not want her to get into trouble.

According to Todd, he does not remember what year or under what circumstances he met Jack Ruby. He describes their association as being so casual that he really cannot recall any details of even when he last saw him. Todd could not explain or understand how Ruby would have his phone number in his possession as he does not believe he ever gave his phone number to Ruby. Todd admits to being in the Silver Spur several times and had visited the Vegas Club. He thinks he remembers Eva Grant as being at the door of the Vegas Club. Todd strongly denied having any dealings or associations with Ruby. He would explain that when he met Ruby in the street he would exchange greetings and continue to walk as Ruby would always try to stop and engage him in a social conversation. Todd characterized Ruby as always being in the police station on social calls and he was extremely friendly with police officers. On the other hand, Todd said he and his friends wanted nothing to do with police officers and stayed as far away from them as possible. Todd could not conceive of Ruby being associated with anyone involved in any criminal organization with him (Ruby) being so closely associated with the police department. The fear was always there that Ruby could be a police informant, so stated Todd.

Todd answered the questions rather freely and we were never cautioned by his attorney, Jerry Biesel, as to the type of questions being asked. The interview ended with Todd suggesting, if needed, we can again call him and he would be willing to speak to us again.
