On 5/26/59, [WF 1133-S*] learned that Cuban Economic Attache [CS] Gonzalo de la Pezuela and Roberto Acosta, Vice President in charge of the Cuban National Commission for Development, had received instructions from Cuba to immediately make arrangements at the Export Import Bank, Washington, D. C., for a loan of "several million dollars" for Cuba. The money was to be used for the purchase of unidentified equipment for Cuba. According to the source, the request for this loan had the approval of several Cuban officials, including Manuel Ray. (X)

On 7/15/60, Angel Sebastian Ros Escala advised that he came to the US on 5/19/60; He stated that he had worked for the July 26 Movement in the underground in Havana until November or December, 1958, when he went into the Sierra Maestra Mountains of Cuba. He remained there until Batista collapsed. While in Havana, he worked with Manolo Ray, an action group leader. (u)

Ros continued that around March, 1959, he and several others organized the Movimiento De Recuperacion Revolucionario (MRR) (97-4133) as an underground anti-Castro organization. He indicated that he became general coordinator of the MRR and that his work consisted of organizing, recruiting and planning to fight against Castro. He related that he also worked for three or four months (dates not given) for Manolo Ray, the anticommunist head of the public works. When Ray was arrested around November, 1959, Ros resigned his position in the same department. Ray was succeeded by Osmani Cienfuegos. (u)

By letter dated 3/16/61 at Miami, Howard Davis, 450 S. W. 4th St., Miami, MM 639-S, (134-6356) advised President John F. Kennedy of the current Cuban situation. Concerning Manuel Ray, he stated that during meetings the previous week in NY and Washington, Ray actively participated in the future destiny of Cuba. He also stated that Ray was an avowed enemy of the US and that he had heard Ray discussing his program with other Cubans. Ray advocated that properties confiscated from American citizens and corporations were not to be returned to their rightful owners; that no independence be given to the judicial power; that special Revolutionary Tribunals be kept functioning; and that Cuba honor Castro's commercial, cultural and political treaties with Russia, Red China and their satellites in order to block American influence in the Republic. (S) (u) DC

Informant called attention to the fact that while the youth of Cuba fought against the brutal tyranny of international communism, Cuban "leaders" such as Ray and others in the US were egoistically campaigning for the Presidency, the several Ministries and bureaucratic positions, publicly claiming that they had the support of American officials and, by inference, of the US Government. He indicated that prior to leaving Cuba, he had become increasingly sympathetic with the anti-Castro underground movement headed by Manuel Ray. He continued that while in Madrid he communicated with Ray in Miami and expressed a desire to do something to assist the MRP. He subsequently was invited by Ray to come to Miami as he felt he could use him in connection with anti-Castro propaganda. Guede went to Miami on 12/18/60.

On 5/9/61, Rigoberto Castellanos, PSI (protect identity), a Cuban exile who was closely acquainted with Ray and who had knowledge of the activities of persons associated with him, advised that Guede joined the MRP after turning against Fidel Castro. A Newark report dated 8/22/61 revealed that George R. Damon (105-63729) had told numerous individuals on Long Beach Island the following: Damon was a close friend of Manuel Rey, whom he described as the leader of the anti-Castro forces in the US. Rey had made Damon a colonel in the army that was attempting the overthrow of Castro. Rey was currently in Miami and had commissioned Damon to purchase motors for PT boats. Damon found motors he could obtain for $400. He intended to charge Rey $750 plus $150 transportation charges. Damon stated that he made frequent trips to Cuba from Miami, presumably in PT boats. He would smuggle people out of Cuba for a fee but would not allow them to take anything on board for fear of their concealing a bomb. Damon further stated that he could obtain any type of weapon in the Miami area presumably from an arms cache belonging to Rey. (Source not clear)

One such individual was Manolo Ray, who was currently Coordinator of the MRP in the US. Arazoza stated that Ray was Minister of Public Works under Castro for a time and that Ray's brother also had a good position in the Castro regime but was caught mishandling funds and was either shot or committed suicide. Ray believed in many things that Castro did, including state ownership of principal industries. Arazoza continued that he, Ray, was organizing a movement in the US against Castro and that Dr. Ricardo la Flor and Dr. Guillermo Gonzalez Fraga, physicians at the Thomason General Hospital in El Paso, were Ray's adherents although they were anti-Castro.

By letter dated 2/15/63 at Miami, Robert H. Hoadley (134-9231) offered to assist the Bureau on the Cuban and Latin American situation. He praised the Bureau but mentioned several things he could not understand such as, "How can you believe that Mr. Miro Cardona is a real anti-communist? - I can mention others' names as Manuel Ray, Justo Carrillo, Felipe Pazos, etc." He also set out references who could verify his good mental condition. (u)

It was noted that he was formerly contacted as a PSI in Miami but was dropped when his army record, which showed a discharge for psychoneurosis, became known. It was further noted that Hoadley should be contacted but that he should not be utilized as a source. (u)

CIA reported that Manuel Artime (105-85440) had a scheduled appointment on 3/9/63 in San Juan, Puerto Rico, with Governor Luis Munoz Marin. He intended to discuss the Cuban situation, the Dominican situation, and Manuel Ray, head of JURE, and hoped to receive some type of anti-Castro support. Artime indicated that it was his understanding that at present there was a personal rift between Munoz and Ray and that this was an opportune time to make the trip to Puerto Rico. (u)

On 5/31/63, PSI Rafael Valdes (protect identity) stated that there had been a strong rumor among Cuban exiles that Gutierrez Menoyo, the military leader of the Second National Front of Escambray (SNFE) (Operation Alpha 66) (105-112098), was attempting to work out some kind of an agreement with JURE which was headed by Manuel Ray, who was Minister of Public Works in the first cabinet of Prime Minister Fidel Castro in 1959. (S)(u)

PSI Rafael Valdes (protect identity) reported that on 6/4/63 he met with Gutierrez Menoyo in NY at which time he learned that Gutierrez had been spending much time with JURE members in an effort to reach some type of agreement but that as of 6/4/63, no agreement had been made. According to source, Gutierrez had not personally spoken with "Manolo" Ray when the latter was in NY during the weekend of 6/1/63 but Ray would return to NY on the weekend of 6/8/63 and he, Gutierrez, might meet with him then. Rafael Valdes, PSI under development (protect identity) advised that on 6/14/63 he conversed with Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo during which time he learned that there had been no union of the Second National Front of Escambray (SNFE) - Alpha 66 (105-112098) with JURE. Gutierrez stated that there were many difficulties to overcome before any union could be made with JURE, which was headed by Manuel "Manolo" Ray. Informant related that Gutierrez spoke very bitterly concerning Ray and stated that Ray wanted only to get all anti-Castro organizations under the control of JURE. (S)(u)

It was noted that Gutierrez was the Military Chief of SNFE.
