Reference paragraphs 23 and 25.

23. The files of this Agency contain information that during the week of 20 April 1964, an unidentified American lawyer approached Dr. Heracito da Fontoura Sobral Pinto in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and asked him to defend the nine Communist Chinese who had been arrested earlier in the month for espionage and subversive activities. The nine Chinese were in Brazil as news and trade representatives. The unidentified American lawyer said that, as an American, he could not defend the Chinese, and, according to Pinto, the American lawyer left "some dollars" as legal fees and for expenses. The unidentified American lawyer was believed to be Victor RABINOWITZ, who arrived in Rio de Janeiro on 23 April 1964, from Paris accompanied by his wife. The Rio press of 5 December 1964 quoted Sobral Pinto as stating that a telegram was received from an "international group of lawyers" based in London who were sending six of its members to observe the final judgment of the Chinese on trial. This "international group of lawyers" is probably the International Association of Democratic Lawyers which was founded in 1946, and expelled from Paris in 1950 by the French Government for its obvious Communist front activity. The Association moved its headquarters to Brussels, Belgium. It has close ties with the World Peace Council and other Communist front organizations. It is quick to denounce actions of the West and full of praise for Soviet and Chinese actions. It is noted that, on 14 March 1964, Victor RABINOWITZ received a Hungarian visa to travel to Hungary to attend a meeting.
