MEMO OF CONVERSATION BETWEEN
WM. GEORGE GAUDET AND BERNARD FENSTERWALD
AT WAVELAND, MISSISSIPPI, MAY 13, 1975

Gaudet is 67 years of age and in poor health. Semi-retired. Writes for local newspaper.

During WW II, Gaudet worked as secret agent in Latin America for Nelson Rockefeller, Coordinator of Latin American affairs under FDR. Switched to CIA in 1947 and worked for them until 1969. During this time he published Latin American Newsletter and Latin American Report, which he claims were 100% commercial ventures and not CIA fronts. However, he travelled constantly in Latin America and combined his commercial work with his CIA assignments; the latter, according to him, were basically uncompensated (some expenses were picked up by CIA) and done for patriotic purposes. There were 3 others in the New Orleans area who did likewise.

Gaudet is a right-winger; generally disliked JFK.

Kept his CIA activities very secret, not even telling his wife. Only told FBI in 1963. No one else.

Latin American Newsletter cost $15.00 per week. Both the CIA and the KGB had in excess of 20 subscriptions, which means that each of them "subsidized" Gaudet to the tune of more than $15,000 annually.

As to JFK slaying, believes Warren Report is a fairy story which shall become completely unglued very soon. Believes anti-Castro forces involved. Personally believes they had a right to hate JFK. Thinks plot was hatched soon after Bay of Pigs and came to fruition in 1963.

As to having the Mexican Travel Permit serially next to Oswald's, Gaudet explains that it was complete coincidence and that he never met Oswald. He backs and fills on whether he flew to Merida or Mexico City. What is of more interest is the fact that he was interviewed three times by FBI about it. Before telling them anything, he checks with "Bill", the CIA station chief in New Orleans, who, in turn, checks with Langley. It is decided that Gaudet should answer questions re Mexican trip but nothing more, and FBI promises to keep Gaudet's name to itself and save his cover. Apparently, they did so until 1972 when his name was (inadvertently?) declassified.

Gaudet says the FBI report about his having reported on Ruby's buying paintings from Borenstein is a complete fabrication. He didn't know either Borenstein or Ruby and he wouldn't volunteer the time of day to the FBI.

In last week, FBI has called and is going to re-interview Gaudet. For whom?

Gaudet says he never met Oswald, and that he only observed him upon occasion. Question mark on this? In any event, he describes him as a "miserable little creature who would do anything for money." Believes he was being financed by someone. Most seriously doubts if he could have pulled off the rifle fire in Dealey Plaza, as LHO was terribly nervous and disorganized.

2.

Believes LHO worked both sides of the "Cuban street," Doesn't really admit knowing what he was up to. Rumored to have an office in a building immediately across street from Trade Mart.]?

Knew LHO went to Mexico by bus.

Gaudet described the CIA set up in New Orleans in detail. Large offices with approximately [redacted] people. Similar to CIA set up in all ports, unmarked office. Unlisted phone.

New Orleans office headed by "Bill", lawyer, prominent family, debutante daughter. (Since learned that "Bill" is William Burke and office is [redacted])

CIA New Orleans had closed circuit to Langley.

CIA only paid Gaudet's special travel expenses when their tasks couldn't be done on his regular trips.

Gaudet was once flown to Langley to brief CIA on Latin American affairs.

Laughs when he thinks of Rockefeller as head of Commission to study either CIA or Dallas.

Miscellaneous & Leads

Ferrie knew LHO and Shaw, but Shaw wasn't CIA and had nothing to do with Dallas.

Thinks E. Howard Hunt knows more about Dallas than any other person he can think of. Hunt was "God" to the Cubans, and he is certain that CIA sent Hunt out immediately after Dallas to see what he could find out about a "Cuban connection."

Knows of LHO's cousin, Marilyn Murrett in an intelligence connection.

WHY? ↓ Says Sergio Arcacha Smith should be cross-examined if alive and subpoenaable.)?
