GARCIA NAVARRO said when he attempted to return from Panama to the United States he was advised by the United States Embassy at Panama that the return visa had been granted in error, and he was instructed to apply for an immigrant visa in Panama.

GARCIA NAVARRO claimed this would be impossible unless he would be permitted to return to the United States on a tourist visa to gather necessary documents; that the United States Embassy in Panama was unwilling to grant him a tourist visa. He is presently stranded in Panama, and unable to return to the United States.

On October 31, 1959, MARCOS DIAZ, SERGIO DIAZ, half-brother of MARCOS, RAFAEL HUGET, and PEDRO DIAZ, former Head of Cuban Revolutionary Air Force, met with MENOYO at the Georgian Hotel, Atlanta. (u)

MENOYO suggested that PEDRO DIAZ align himself with forces in the Dominican Republic to overthrow FIDEL CASTRO, also to attempt to kidnap ESTEBAN VENTURA, former Lieutenant Colonel in Cuban National Police, and to return him to Cuba. PEDRO DIAZ rejected both proposals, feeling they were designed to discredit or entrap him. (u)

HUGET and MENOYO subsequently returned to Cuba. (u)

IN ANTI-CASTRO MOVEMENT

BATISTA indicated he is anti-TRUJILLO and does not favor aid to the movement for the TRUJILLO faction. BATISTA indicated that he liked JOSE PEDRAZA, military leader of the movement in the Dominican Republic, but feels that PEDRAZA is virtually a prisoner of TRUJILLO in the Dominican Republic, and can never become a strong figure in the Anti-CASTRO Movement, as long as he remains in the Dominican Republic. (u) u

On October 8, 1959, ALSIDES DE LOS REYES, 1674 S. W. 8th Street, Miami, (protect) advised that a letter written by BATISTA indicated that his support of the Anti-CASTRO Movement had caused some dissension in Miami, inasmuch as BATISTA indicated he did not favor EMILIO NUNEZ PORTUONDO as Provisional President of Cuba in the event the CASTRO Government is overthrown.
