Title: ROBERT SCHEER

Character: SECURITY MATTER - MISCELLANEOUS

Synopsis:

ROBERT SCHEER is self employed as a free-lance writer or author for various national magazines. SCHEER's residence is 3016 Bateman Street, Berkeley, California. He has been traveling extensively in the United States and abroad giving anti-war speeches and supporting the New Left and the Black Panther Party. He is known to have been in Paris, France, in January, 1970. On 2/22/70, SCHEER was in Eugene, Oregon, where he spoke at a rock festival. In the February, 1970, issue of "Ramparts" Magazine, SCHEER was billed to travel with the San Francisco Mime Troupe throughout the Southwestern United States during March and April, 1970. SCHEER addressed students at Arizona State University, Tempe, Arizona, on 4/15/70, and appeared with the San Francisco Mime Troupe. He spoke at the Third Annual Art Festival, University of Nevada, Las Vegas, Nevada, on 4/17/70. SCHEER appeared at his residence in Berkeley, California, on 4/23/70, where he was interviewed by Buagents on another matter. SCHEER was endorsed to run for U. S. Senator by the Peace and Freedom Party at their convention held 2/21/70, and 2/22/70. He filed for this office by mail on 3/20/70.

"RAMPARTS" MAGAZINE

"Ramparts" in a letter to subscribers dated May 1, 1968, announced that beginning June 1, 1968, it would be published biweekly at a yearly subscription price of $15. In this letter "Ramparts" described itself as follows: "...the first national publication to consistently reveal the ribbon of lies supporting America's involvement in Vietnam; we stripped the curtain from America's 'invisible government' by exposing CIA's unlicensed intrusion into our domestic lives; we dared to write about the applications of the Catholic Church's political power; we warned, years before the Kerner report, that white racism was the base of America's racial problems; we blasted away at the corroded institutions of Cold War liberalism.

" 'Ramparts' is now the largest left-of-center commercial magazine in the history of the United States..."

"A suit for $150,000 damages was filed against East Bay authorities today by Robert Scheer, editor and writer for Ramparts Magazine.

"The action in federal court named Sheriff Frank Madigan, the County of Alameda, and the City of Berkeley as defendants.

"It grew out of Scheer's arrest--among 391 others--during the People's Park demonstrations in Berkeley last May 22, an arrest which he claimed violated his rights under the 1st, 4th, 5th, 6th, 8th, and 14th Amendments.

"Scheer, saying he was present as a member of the working press, charged that he was held at the Santa Rita prison farm, denied the right to counsel or access to bail, and physically and mentally harassed, assaulted and punished.

"Subsequently, all the charges on which he was arrested were dismissed by the Berkeley-Albany municipal court, he added."

The results of this suit are unknown at this time.

A confidential source advised a check in the amount of $2,500 on the closed account of ROBERT SCHEER, Bank of America, South Berkeley Branch, Berkeley, California, was cashed in Beirute, Lebanon, on January 25, 1970. This check, account number 5544-2336, was closed on September 22, 1967. The invalid check has been returned to the Chemical Bank of New York, Collection Department, Post Office Box 5006, New York, New York. Above source also advised this was the second such check cashed in the past year or so, both for the same amount, and both cashed in Beirute, Lebanon.

One of the speakers was ROBERT SCHEER, former editor of "Ramparts" Magazine. SCHEER spoke in opposition to the conspiracy law under which the "Chicago 7" were tried, and at one point stated that he had crossed state lines twice with the intent to incite riots in the sense that some of the members of the "Conspiracy 7" had done so.

At the peak of the evening, the size of the crowd in attendance of this festival was estimated to be 1,200 by the "Oregon Daily Emerald," student newspaper, UO, although other sources estimated the crowd to be not more than 600 at any time during the evening.

SF T-8
February 22, 1970

ROBERT SCHEER delivered a speech in the Great Hall Auditorium of the Law School at Arizona State University (ASU), Tempe, Arizona, on April 15, 1970. SCHEER spoke before an audience estimated at 500 persons. The audience appeared to be composed mostly of students from ASU. He was scheduled to deliver an anti-war speech, but instead, his remarks were devoted to local issues on the ASU campus. He was sponsored by the SMC.

SF T-6
April 15, 1970

The "Arizona Republic," a daily newspaper, Phoenix, Arizona, printed an article in its April 16 edition stating:

"Robert Scheer, a former editor of Ramparts magazine, bounced onto the ASU campus yesterday morning with a news conference in the Memorial Union. He blasted ASU administrators for allegedly cancelling payment of his speaker's fee and for disapproving the appearance with him of a 15-member San Francisco mime troupe.

The San Francisco Mime Troupe is a radical theater group which performs in satire and farce, "... to expose to laughter a whole range of myths, fears, and prejudices on both sides of the color bar." The San Francisco Mime Troupe has recently been active in performing at anti-war demonstrations throughout the nation.

"The subsequent appearance of Scheer and his unauthorized troupe at a student Anti-War Day workshop resulted in obscene chantings by Scheer's group and by student supporters during the five hours the group was on campus.

"Scheer asserted that he and the mime troupe had been invited by the ASU student government to take part in the campus workshop and that they had subsequently been cancelled out by the ASU administration.

"At the unauthorized appearance of the mime troupe in the College of Law Great Hall, where Scheer was permitted to speak, numerous visual and audible references to sexual organs were made by the troupe. In addition, one of the male mime troupe members, in enacting a protest against ecological pollution, fondled the breast of a female member as 300 students watched.

"The troupe's performance used the references to sex to illustrate their contention that government and big business are raping and exploiting the earth."

The Third Annual Art Festival, University of Las Vegas, Las Vegas, Nevada, was scheduled to run for 12 days, commencing April 15, 1970. ROBERT SCHEER was scheduled to be one of the speakers on April 17, 1970, at 8:15 p.m.

The San Francisco Mime Troupe also performed at the Art Festival on April 17, 1970.
