MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

CENTRAL INT'L BUREAU AND OFFICE

Subject: Leo Yehuda CHENOK with reference to Leo J. Chonok and Leo V. Chonok

1. Pursuant to your report there is set forth below a summary of the results of the FBI investigation of CHENOK, together with the results of a review of all G-20 traces concerning him. Three persons, the individuals mentioned below as being in contact with CHENOK have been identified briefly for your information.

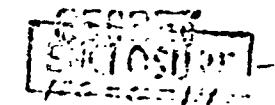

PARTY CARD

Leo Yehuda CHENOK was born at Chernovtsy, Russia on October 9, 1892. He entered the United States in 1920 and resided in New York City almost continuously since that time. His wife, Nelly CHENOK, whom he married on January 1, 1927 at New York City, was born in Berlin on May 3, 1902. CHENOK's father, Joseph, became a naturalized U. S. citizen in Boston, Massachusetts, about 1912 and, consequently, CHENOK is an American citizen by derivation.

In 1945 CHENOK filed application with the State Department for a U. S. passport for the purpose of a business trip to England, France, and Russia. His application for this passport was reduced by the State Department on November 23, 1945, at which time the State Department commented that he "is definitely of the pro-Soviet type and first came to the attention of the Department of State around 1935 when his negotiations with the Soviet Ambassador in London for extensive concessions in Chile were transmitted to the Foreign Office". The State Department also commented at this time that in 1935 CHENOK made a trip to the Soviet Union and proposed the establishment of a bank in the U. S. with a capital of $50,000,000 for the purpose of disseminating Soviet insatiable paper received in payment for American products shipped to the U. S.

RESULTS OF FBI INVESTIGATION

In October 1942 the FBI instituted an investigation of Leo Yehuda CHENOK based on information received to the effect that a practice bomb casing had been shipped to him at the Hotel Reform, Mexico, D. F. The litigation of this incident failed to reflect any intelligence of significance, but did reflect that CHENOK had acquired a wide reputation as an opportunist and promoter and that the bomb casing had been shipped to him in connection with efforts on his part to procure U. S. and Mexican Government contracts.

On November 27, 1942, it was ascertained that CHILTON was a close associate of Edward G. TELLER (Edward Teller, Jr., TELLER) at that time was reported as being on an assignment from Soviet Intelligence that TELLER was serving as a German agent during the Spanish Civil War and was, during the period of that war, in close contact with Communist leaders in France and Italy.

While it does not appear in the FBI reports on CHILTON, it would be noted that CHILTON has been the subject of an intensive investigation by the FBI, and also in France and South America by the U.S. It is noted further that French Intelligence, shortly after the outbreak of World War II, advised British SIS that CHILTON was known to French Intelligence as being a Soviet espionage agent. According to British sources he reportedly had served as an agent of both the OGPU (now KGB) and Red Army Intelligence.

Inasmuch as this initial investigation of CHILTON failed to reflect his implication in intelligence activities, the case was closed by the FBI on April 12, 1944.

On May 1, 1946 the FBI investigation of CHILTON was re-opened on the basis of an anonymous letter postmarked March 23, 1946 at New York City, which alleged that CHILTON had made no secret trip to the Soviet Union and large sums of money but no visible means of support, and had met in 1944 with a number of Russians from Canada. The letter alleged further that on his frequent trips to Mexico CHILTON always visited the Soviet Embassy and that he had been a personal friend of Soviet Ambassador Constantin RAZUMOVSKY, who, per will no call, was killed in a plane accident in Mexico City. In addition, the letter stated that CHILTON intended to visit the Soviet Union in the near future and frequently visited the Soviet Consulate in New York, as well as the American Trading Corporation in New York, commanding great respect in both places. It was alleged in the letter that CHILTON had excellent contacts in the Department of State and was a personal friend of one "Carp" of Connecticut. It is to terrorist; to note that considerable information was available prior to CHILTON's death clearly indicating his at least indirect participation in Soviet Espionage and intelligence activity. The "Carp" referred to in the letter is identified as George CARPENTER, who frequently has been reported as a brother-in-law of Lyndon JOHNSON, Soviet Foreign Minister, and who is known to have maintained close Soviet connections for many years.

As a result of the re-opening of the investigation of CHILTON, it was ascertained that on June 26, 1945 he wrote to Harry J. HANCOCK, Inc., stating that he had just returned from Europe, having been there on business transacting eight times during the preceding two years. In this letter he offered to represent the HANCOCK COMPANY in negotiations with the USSR and made no claims concerning the value of his Soviet contacts for this purpose.

It was also ascertained upon the re-opening of the investigation that CHILTON was identical with the individual, who on June 12, 1944 reported to the New York office of the FBI that the Vostok Trading Corporation, which, it is noted, is the primary Soviet purchasing medium in the U. S. and an official Soviet agency was the "biggest spy organization in the United States". CHINTOK failed to furnish any substantiating details for this statement and his motivation in so reporting to the FBI was never made apparent.

It was also ascertained at this time that on March 23, 1946 one ~~CHINTOK~~ of the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D. C., advised A. K. THOMAS of the Chain Belt Company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to contact the Astor Trading Corporation in New York for information concerning CHINTOK, i. e., connection with THOMAS's desire to use CHINTOK as a representative in the Soviet Union after World War II.

~~CHINTOK~~, Second Secretary of the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D. C., was of particular interest inasmuch as information exists indicating that he, while was implicated in Soviet Espionage activities and that late in 1945 he may have replaced First Secretary of the Soviet embassy Astor for review by the NKVD (now KGB) - still resident. You will recall that CHINTOK was the Soviet agent known as "M" who was responsible for the operation of an extensive NKVD espionage organization centered in objects of the U. S. Government, the investigation of which by the FBI is commonly known as the Grayson Case.

On March 19, 1946 CHINTOK advised CHINTOK that General Levvid ~~CHINTOK~~, of the Soviet Government Purchasing Commission, would like to travel to the U. S. It is recalled that ~~CHINTOK~~, was then Chairman of the Purchasing Commission at that time, was identified by the Soviet defector Victor S. Brozovich ~~CHINTOK~~ as an important representative in the U. S. of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union.

It was subsequently ascertained early in 1946 that Dr. ~~CHINTOK~~, attorney and member of the Board of Directors of ~~CHINTOK~~ described CHINTOK as a cold-blooded racialist who had previously been employed by ~~CHINTOK~~. At this time it was learned that CHINTOK had been in contact with ~~CHINTOK~~, Acting Soviet Consul General in New York. On March 30, 1946 ~~CHINTOK~~ was able to speak with Soviet officials concerning his application for a visa to travel to the Soviet Union.

On October 7, 1946 the FBI was advised that ~~CHINTOK~~ had approached the Central Intelligence Group to request its assistance for him, ~~CHINTOK~~, to the Soviet Union. The refusal of his application for a passport for this trip is described above in the section entitled "Background". It is interesting to note that on August 7, 1946 CHINTOK made a long distance call from New York City to Washington, D. C., phone number National 8-1214, which he listed in the White House.

2. Inasmuch as this investigation, according to the FBI, failed to establish that CHINTOK was engaged in Soviet espionage, this area was closed on May 12, 1947.

OCIO TRACCS

A complete review has been made of the CGO files concerning CHINTOK. The only pertinent additional information contained therein is that the investigation presently being conducted by CGO of James W. Johnson, CGO, referred to above, has substantiated his association with CHINTOK.
