Re: Eric H. Aronson

Brooklyn, New York

Gentlemen:

During the period from September 1963, when he matriculated at Hofstra University, Farmingdale, New York, until June 1970, when he graduated, my son, Eric H. Aronson, led the student demonstrations against the war in Viet Nam. He informed me, at that time, that he had, on three occasions, been subjected to interview and interrogation by agents of your agency.

He died on August 9, 1975. As I am writing a book on his life, I request, under the Freedom of Information Act, that you forward me any and all information, writings and material you have in your file on him.

May I hear from you at your earliest opportunity.

Very truly yours,

Arthur J. Aronson
