The extensive investigative period of this report is noted; however, Miami has been awaiting results of investigation being conducted in Chicago.

FLA
The following information relates to recent bombing activity in the Miami area perpetrated by Miami hoodlums, the principal suspect being FRANK "LEFTY" ROSENTHAL, alleged Lieutenant of YARAS. It is noted in this regard that Miami informants have reported that these bombings are part of an approved plan of the Chicago family, LCN, to organize certain bookmakers in the Miami area.

Information below relates to contacts with LUIS POSADA CARRILES in regard to his knowledge of the activities of captioned individual. At the time of original contact with CARRILES, he was an employee of CIA. During the latter stages of his contacts with SA WELSH his employment with CIA had been terminated. (~~S~~) (~~S~~) (u)

CIA INFORMANT

(~~S~~) (~~S~~) (u)

1. On July 24, 1965, CIA provided in memo form information received from a reliable source. This source was later identified as LUIS POSADA CARRILES. (~~S~~) (~~S~~) (u)

POSADA advised that DIEGO BORGES was acting as an agent for three Americans who were seeking to buy pistols, explosives, blasting caps, hand grenades and silencers. The identity of the Americans was not known to POSADA although he believed they were members of the Ku Klux Klan or possibly the John Birch Society. (~~S~~) (~~S~~) (u)

POSADA provided the following background information concerning individuals involved with BORGES in the procurement of arms and munitions by the three Americans: ~~(S)~~ ~~(S)~~ (u)

HERMINIO DIAZ, 732 N.W. 3rd Street, Miami, Florida, sold sixty hand grenades (USMK II) to BORGES for delivery to Americans. DIAZ received from BORGES three hundred sixty dollars for grenades but delivered only forty. Subsequently, BORGES asked source to go to DIAZ and either pick up other twenty grenades or the one hundred twenty dollars in cash which they represented. ~~(S)~~ ~~(S)~~ (u)

RAMON ESCARDA, 620 S.W. 9th Street, who served in the U. S. Army, 1958-1959, was supposed to obtain one hundred pounds of pentolite for delivery to BORGES for $320-350. ~~(S)~~ ~~(S)~~ (u)

FRANK TAMAYO, 3213 S.W. 8th Street, Miami, active in anti-CASTRO activities, sold 622 caliber silencers to Americans for $1,000. ~~(S)~~ ~~(S)~~ (u)

Source gave descriptions of the three Americans and also recorded license plate of car utilized by group. ~~(S)~~ ~~(S)~~ (u)

On October 23, 1965, POSADA interviewed by Bureau Agents. POSADA readily admitted he had been in contact with three Americans who were seeking to purchase hand grenades, weapons, silencers and explosives. He had been placed in contact with these Americans by DIEGO BORGES. He confirmed DIAZ, ESCARDA and TAMAYO were also involved in this transaction. POSADA said shortly after he established contact with Americans, his CIA contact gave him several photos in attempt to identify Americans. POSADA said he identified one of the photos as that of FRANK ROSENTHAL. Immediately after he identified this photo, CIA instructed him to break off all contact with these three Americans and to have nothing further to do with them. ~~(S)~~ ~~(S)~~ (u)

POSADA said that six silencers which had been manufactured at the home of TAMAYO had been given by BORGES to ROSENTHAL. He said ESCARDA was looking for pentolite but did not know whether material delivered to ROSENTHAL. (S) (X) (u)

SECRET

On November 5, 1965, Bureau Agents exhibited photo of NORMAN ROTHMAN, FBI #152 585B, to POSADA. POSADA identified ROTHMAN as one of Americans with ROSENTHAL. He was of the impression that ROTHMAN was personally known to BORGES and had introduced ROSENTHAL to BORGES. It is noted ROTHMAN was arrested April 9, 1959, and was later convicted of violation of the National Stolen Property Act. He was sentenced to five years in prison and ten thousand dollar fine. (S) (X) (u)

2. By similar communication, dated June 15, 1967, CIA advised the Miami Division that POSADA had been contacted by FRANK ROSENTHAL during the month of October, 1966. (S) (X) (u)

ROSENTHAL told POSADA that all silencers he had purchased from POSADA were pieces of junk and he felt POSADA and BORGES were responsible for this and maybe his friends would kill POSADA and BORGES. (S) (X) (u)

ROSENTHAL stated although he was out $5,000 from his previous purchases, he did not want money from POSADA. ROSENTHAL said he knew POSADA was working for CIA and he wanted some CIA equipment. POSADA allegedly refused to do this but POSADA made a number of fuse devices which he gave to ROSENTHAL. (S) (X) (u)

This same memo reflects ROSENTHAL contacted POSADA in early June, 1967. ROSENTHAL stated the fuse devices were no good which were previously furnished and made a request for more CIA fuse devices and remote control unit for detonating explosive charges. (S) (X) (u) ings with FRANK ROSENTHAL from the time of the Spring of 1965, through June 12, 1967. POSADA made one additional remark concerning his involvement with ROSENTHAL during 1965. He stated that he did not directly furnish ROSENTHAL any of the explosives, et al, which he requested although he was introduced to ROSENTHAL as an expert in the field of explosives. For his expertise knowledge he was given $500 by ROSENTHAL sometime during the month of May, 1965.

POSADA indicated that he gave this money to CIA, who in turn at a later date gave this money back to him. (S) (S) (u)

4. On June 23, 1967, SA JAMES J. O'CONNOR was telephonically contacted by POSADA. POSADA related that on June 22, 1967, he met with FRANK ROSENTHAL. Subject problem and he would pay twenty-five times the original cost if this was necessary. (S) (S) (u)

ROSENTHAL further related to POSADA that there would be at least twenty more bombings and additional corpses would be appearing in the Miami area. Subject stated that he would be out of town for several weeks
although he requested a meeting with source on June 29,

MM T-1 advised in August, 1967, that DAVID YARAS maintains a good deal of control over the activities of certain Miami and Miami Beach bookmakers and gamblers as part of the over-all plan to integrate the Miami area bookmakers into the Chicago organization. A certain amount of the action received by YARAS is turned over to PASQUALE ERRA, described by the informant as being the strongest La Cosa Nostra (LCN) figure in Miami. The informant states that YARAS' main interests, however, lie in Chicago, where he continues to maintain bookmaking, shylocking and "scam" businesses.

ALFRED MART, also known as ALFIE MART, resides at 1211 100th Street, Bay Harbor Island. He was interviewed at 1245 Michigan Avenue. MART volunteered the following information:

He stated that he first came to Miami Beach, Florida, in 1946 after his discharge from the U. S. Army. MART first started to work as a clerk in a horse room and shortly thereafter was given his own horse room. According to MART, all bookmaking and gambling was controlled by the S & G Syndicate. He reflected that before the influence of the mob, everyone connected with the syndicate was trustworthy and honest.

MART indicated that for a short period of time during 1964, he was associated as a part-owner in the Derby Sports Book located in Las Vegas, Nevada. One of his partners in this legal bookmaking operation was GEORGE ABDO who is now deceased. In order to financially back this book, MART stated that he mortgaged his home and also secured a personal loan in New York City. He said that during the first six months of 1964, he spent most of his time in Las Vegas in order to secure his interests at the business. In his opinion, he was swindled in the operation and financial backing of this bookmaking establishment and further contends that there are several falsehoods in the indictment presently pending against him in the district court in Las Vegas, Nevada.

MM 92-1047

MART stated that during the past several years, he has operated Alfie's Sundries which is located at 1664 Alton Road, Miami Beach, Florida. He also admits that during the past years he has conducted a small intrastate bookmaking operation. Most of the business is conducted by a paid clerk who has operated either at the sundries store or in another location. He reflected that due to his money interests, he does not manage the day to day operation of his bookmaking business although he is the financial backer of same.

MART stated that sometime during the spring of 1963, a line service came to the Miami area under the name of Multiple Sports News Service (MSNS). This outfit was headed by FRANK "LEFTY" ROSENTHAL. He was assisted in this venture by STANLEY GREEN, who acted as a clerk and pick-up man. He indicated that MSNS disseminated line information on collegiate and professional football, professional baseball and collegiate and professional basketball. In addition, they would supply player information and up-to-date scores. The latter was possible in view of a Western Union sports sticker which was installed in the offices of MSNS. MART stated that he was assigned a code number in which he or his clerk could use in obtaining line information. The cost of this service varied from sport to sport though he feels that $50 was probably the average price he paid per week.

MART said that in addition to the line service, MSNS also published a weekly sports journal. This journal was put out on a weekly basis and consisted of the schedule for the coming week of sports activity whether it be football, baseball or basketball. As a service to MSNS, Alfies Sundries would sell the sheets on their stand for 35 cents although they paid 23 cents a copy from the publisher. Normally they would get 70 to 100 sheets a week for local dissemination.

In MART's opinion, MSNS did have mob or syndicate backing at the time they started in 1963. He indicated that no force was used in obtaining subscribers to their service but the word was out among the bookmaking fraternity that it was the thing to do. He feels that during the past year MSNS has lost their affiliation with the syndicate and now is operating independent of any organized authority.

MART said that during the current 1967 major league baseball season, he paid $50 a week for the line service. Normally the $50 would be paid in cash by one of his employees working at Alfies Sundries to STANLEY GREEN. GREEN's normal pick-up day was either Monday or Tuesday.

MART said that the baseball line during the current season was normally disseminated the first time around 11:30 a.m. to noon. During the week of May 15, 1967, the line was coming out around 1 p.m. MART stated that he personally complained to GREEN about this late dissemination and GREEN told him that the delay was necessary in view of the fact that there were fewer customers taking the service. MART said that due to the late time of dissemination, he instructed his bookmaking clerk on May 19, 1967, not to call MSNS over the weekend for their line information.

On May 23 or May 24, 1967, STANLEY GREEN came to Alfies Sundries and demanded all the weekly sports journals that were in the rack. GREEN indicated that MSNS was going out of business as to both the dissemination of the line and the publication of their sports journals.

Several days after GREEN's visit to Alfies Sundries, FRANK ROSENTHAL came into the sundries and spoke personally with MART. In their conversation, MART told ROSENTHAL that he did not think it was right for MSNS to all of a sudden pull out their publications or in fact stop disseminating the line. MART also told ROSENTHAL that he was due a refund for services that had not been rendered. ROSENTHAL seemingly agreed and said he would consult STANLEY GREEN as to the amount of the refund.

MM 92-1047

MART stated that during the late evening hours of May 31, 1967, an explosion occurred at the back end of the American Epicure Market which is situated next door to Alfies Sundries. He stated that he was in the area at the time of the explosion and had seen no one in the area whom he considered a suspect. He did receive some information shortly after the explosion that one of the employees of the market considered himself to be an expert in the field of demolition. He was also aware of the fact that ED THAL, had fired on May 29, 1967, a Negro employee who was very irate at THAL for this action.

MART stated that his bookmaking operation continued after the first bombing at the American Epicure Market.

He further related that after MSNS had withdrawn their sheets from Alfies Sundries, he started to print his own schedules. The first sheet was a xeroxed copy of that put out by MSNS although he deleted the name of this service from the publication. He said that the first sheet was printed in a volume of 70 sheets. He stated that ROSENTHAL came into the store after his sheet came on the market, and he told him what he had done. MART said that he told ROSENTHAL that he was sure that his small publication of sheets would not in any way hinder the business of MSNS. MART stated the next two publications were similar in format to the sheet put out in Fort Worth, Texas. At the time of his first interest in publishing a sheet, he contacted ANGEL-KAPLAN for five of their sheets although his money was returned with a note indicating the impossibility of shipping sheets to the Miami, Florida area.

MART stated that on June 16, 1967, a severe explosion took place in Alfies Sundries. The main blast from the explosion occurred in the area of the telephone booths on the south side of the store. He indicated that he was not at the store at the time of the explosion although he appeared on the scene shortly after the occurrence.

MART said it was obvious at this time that the previous bombing at the American Epicure Market was a mistake and was really meant for Alfies Sundries.

MART stated that he considers the prime suspect in the two bombings to be FRANK ROSENTHAL. He characterized this individual as a man with an uncontrollable temper and further, an individual that was very unpredictable and at times, irrational in his behavior. He reflected that ROSENTHAL might have thought he was putting out either a line of his own or in fact disseminating to potential customers of MSNS the line that had been given him. According to MART, if the latter were true, MSNS would of course lose a sizeable amount of money per week. He emphatically denied that he was either putting out a line or giving the line put out by MSNS to other bookmakers whether it be in the Miami, Florida area or out of state.

MART readily admitted friendship with one MICKEY ZION and stated that it was common knowledge that ZION was a prominent bookmaking figure in the Miami, Florida area. He said that he was personally aware of the fact that ZION and FRANK ROSENTHAL have had many arguments over the operation of MSNS. These arguments would stem from accusations by ZION that ROSENTHAL was in fact putting out a false line and also to the fact that ZION was being charged too much money for the service rendered by MSNS. He said that during the fall and winter 1966-1967, ZION was paying $150 a week for service. A short time ago ZION was requested to pay $200 a week by ROSENTHAL for service. ZION refused to pay this amount of money. He further related that on one occasion ZION approached him to work out a deal for both of them obtaining line service from MSNS under one account number. MART refused to enter into such an agreement with ZION.

MART said that between the time of the first bombing and before the second bombing, ROSENTHAL called Alfies Sundries on several occasions late at night while he was in the store. He said ROSENTHAL attempted to disguise his voice although it was apparent to him that it was ROSENTHAL. ROSENTHAL on these occasions stated that he was desirous of obtaining certain baseball scores and was told by MICKEY ZION to call this number for results. MART politely told ROSENTHAL that he did not have the results desired but possibly he could call back in several hours for the information. It was MART's opinion that these calls were aimed at attempts to establish a working relationship between ZION and himself by ROSENTHAL.

In conclusion, MART stated that he was sure that if MIKE COPPOLA was alive there would have been no violence in the area. He related that COPPOLA had silent but firm control over gambling matters, and he did not believe in rough stuff. It was MART's opinion that a new young group of individuals are attempting a takeover in the area and are resorting to any means available to prove their position. He indicated that FRANK ROSENTHAL, DAVE YARAS and BENNY HUSICK would certainly fall under the category he had just mentioned.
