My memo of 11/26/63 advised that National Security Agency (NSA) is undertaking a project to determine whether recent radio traffic between Cuba and U.S., which is on file at NSA, may possibly contain any information of significance in captioned case. This is to be done through a computer process, whereby messages containing the name and aliases of Oswald, as well as any significant addresses and contacts which we furnish NSA, will be mechanically selected for further study.

On 12/3/63, Mr. A. H. Young, Production Group B-14, NSA, advised Liaison Agent that NSA has completed that part of this project involving the name of Oswald, and no messages containing this name were detected. Also, NSA examined all messages between Cuba and New Orleans and Cuba and Dallas and nothing significant was noted. Young advised that this project covers only messages since 10/6/63 as these are the only ones which were recorded on tape and are thereby susceptible to examination through the computer process (The Cuba - U.S. traffic is too voluminous for personal examination).

Young advised that NSA will carry this project further to include checking for messages containing the names of significant contacts of the subject as well as significant addresses, as soon as we furnish NSA such contacts and addresses from our investigation results.
