TP 92-1

Source reported the girls and their husbands are planning on using the beach house at St. Petersburg Beach during July.

Source advised that SANTO on Sunday, June 21, 1964, was unexpectedly at 2505 Bristol Avenue, and that it was believed he came to Tampa on Saturday because Mrs. TRAFFICANTE was in desperate need of household help and required special assistance to cook inasmuch as the TRAFFICANTES were to have unexpected guests. Source advised that the persons who appeared at the TRAFFICANTE residence on Sunday, June 21, 1964 were an individual named JOE (Last Name Unknown), a white male, middle fifties, brown hair, graying on the sides, not short but slender to tall, American, but spoke with SANTO in Italian. This individual's wife was described as a white female, early to middle forties, light tinted reddish hair, not real small, not tall, of medium build, giving appearance of being foreign. This woman was apparently born in America, but her parents were born in Italy and she did not speak Italian. The man and woman were believed to be staying in a motel because it was an unexpected get-together and these individuals talked of New York City, and it was gathered that SANTO had apparently in the past visited in their home in New York City, no dates or times ascertained. After their dinner, Mr. and Mrs. SANTO TRAFFICANTE were to leave 2505 Bristol Avenue with this couple.

TP T-1 advised on June 30, 1964 that SANTO TRAFFICANTE stayed around Tampa, Florida Monday, June 22, 1964; Tuesday, June 23, 1964 in the morning and then left for Miami June 23. Source said subject's wife was in Tampa and left for Miami on Wednesday, June 24, 1964. Neither SANTO nor Mrs. TRAFFICANTE have returned to Tampa since this date, according to this source.

On June 30, 1964 TP T-5 advised that SANTO TRAFFICANTE was at the Peacock Alley Lounge at the Coliseum Lanes at 10:30 p.m., Sunday, June 14, 1964. He was in the company of JULIE GRIMALDI, son of TONY GRIMALDI, president of the Columbia Bank of Ybor City. At such time SANTO talked with an individual
