MM 876-C*
MARTIN KATZ, aka
ITSP
Miami File 87-17771
Bufile 87-71448

The installation in the HYMAN MARTIN case, mentioned above, consists of a 42A MATE. This MATE is currently in-operative and efforts to remove and replace this 42A MATE to date have been unsuccessful. It is felt that the security of this installation has not been jeopardized by the fact that 42A MATES in Las Vegas may have been compromised. At such time as this source is replaced, efforts will be made to institute some other type of coverage.

With regard to installations in the offices of BENJAMIN SIGELBAUM and ALVIN I. MALNIK, in each case a 44A MATE has been used. Consistent with full security, immediate steps have and are being taken to remove these 44A MATES since it is felt their security definitely has been jeopardized. Efforts will be made to afford another form of coverage, particularly in the case of BENJAMIN SIGELBAUM.

MARTIN KATZ is a bail bondsman and close associate of top jewel thieves in the Miami area. He has an office in downtown Miami in an old building. A 42A MATE has been used. It is not known that KATZ is in any way connected with the Las Vegas group as are SIGELBAUM and MALNIK, and for this reason the security at this time is unimpaired. It is anticipated, however, that this coverage will be removed in the not too distant future as the building wherein KATZ's office is located is scheduled for demolition.

MM 92-515 Sub II

With regard to the installation at the apartment of LOUIS SCHRAGER, this is a 42A MATE. It is not felt that security of this installation has been jeopardized at this time and in view of this it is recommended that this be left in. With regard to this installation, it is felt that it can be removed on short notice.

In every case Miami will continue to be alert to any factors which will alter the security of any of these microphones and take appropriate action.
