[redacted] PCI, advised that SAM KAYE, a wealthy hotel owner, built the Havana-Deuville Hotel, Havana, Cuba, and leased it out to RAY BROWN, a real estate man of Cincinnati, Ohio. BROWN, he related, is a brother-in-law of the attorney for the international organization of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' Union, Cincinnati. [redacted] said that AL BERLIN of Miami Beach, a local representative of that union in the Miami area and a close friend of EDWARD MILLER, one of the officials of the union, owns a part of this hotel lease. Similar information was furnished by PCI [redacted]

AL BERLIN, FBI Number 895806, is a former book-maker and union racketeer. BERLIN was very close to MAX CALDWELL, FBI Number 1958326, a deceased union racketeer.

over the telephone at UN-6-3707. DARDIS subsequently advised that this telephone was issued to ROBERT L. BARNES, 1794 Normandy Drive, Miami Beach. DARDIS again subsequently advised that he furnished this information to the State's Attorney's office, and on January 2, 1958, BARNES, a former member of the old S & G Syndicate of Miami Beach was arrested by the investigators of the State's Attorney's office and an agent from the State Hotel Commission. DARDIS related that BARNES was charged with bookmaking and was released under a $1,500.00 bond.

DARDIS further advised that a male individual, known only to date as RUBY and who is from Chicago, Illinois, is operating as a sneak bookie from the lobby of the Treasure Isle Motel, North Bay Village.

The "Miami News" newspaper of January 2, 1958, related that BEN COHEN, a criminal attorney in the Greater Miami area and former attorney for the defunct S & G Gambling Syndicate at Miami Beach, settled his income tax difficulties with the Bureau of Internal Revenue for approximately $90,000.00. The article related that the tax claim was in the nature of a jeopardy assignment for a delinquent bill submitted by the Internal Revenue Service covering the years of 1943 through 1951. The same BEN COHEN during 1957 filed a $10,000.00 libel suit in Federal Court at Miami against the "Readers Digest".

[REDACTED] PCI, advised that WILLIAM GUSTO BISCHOFF, Wa. "Lefty Clark", FBI Number 1721507, operator of the Tropicana Gambling Casino, Havana, Cuba, no longer maintains a residence in Miami. He related that CLARK resides in the Rosietta Apartments, Havana, Cuba.

[REDACTED] also stated that he spoke to MEYER LANSKY in Havana, Cuba, recently and learned that LANSKY was not feeling well and contemplated entering a hospital for a checkup and rest. He said he also gathered from observation and conversation that LANSKY is interested in the operation of the hotel rather than the operation of the gambling casino in the new Riviera Hotel. He said there was no doubt in his mind that EDMUND LEVINSON was in charge of the casino.

LEONARD SOLOMON, detective, Miami Beach Police Department, advised that FRANK RED FREED and MORRIS SCHNERTZLER, Wa. Max Courtney, FBI Number 4047323, bookmakers and gamblers
