On February 27, 1958, a further inquiry concerning the officers and directors of the presumably defunct United Dryer Corporation was made at Springfield by Chicago, which has not received an answer to this inquiry as yet.

Re United Dryer Company and
United Dryer Sales and Service Company
Chicago, Illinois

On February 25, 1958, ARTHUR F. SCHWARTZ advised that he had a former client by the name of OSCAR SCHULTZ, whom he represented in the incorporation of a company called United Dryer Sales and Service, Incorporated. SCHWARTZ advised that he was an incorporator of this company and also had been Statutory Agent for it. SCHWARTZ said that he had represented OSCAR SCHULTZ, a man who owned a car wash and who had also been in the coin operated machine business for some time before SCHULTZ wanted to incorporate in order to handle the manufacture and sale of a small, hot air, drying machine for use in washrooms, etc.

SCHWARTZ advised that he thought that SCHULTZ had hold of a good idea and that he would be producing a good and saleable product in the 1952-1953 period. SCHWARTZ said he even got his partner, SILVERSTEIN, to agree to take their fees in the form of stock in the corporation, but SCHULTZ would not agree to this. SCHWARTZ advised it developed that the product was not so good; in fact, the dryer would not work.

However, SCHWARTZ said that he had applied for and obtained an Illinois Charter for the United Dryer Corporation and all he and his partner could manage to collect out of it was that they got their corporation costs from SCHULTZ, but he refused to pay them their fee. SCHWARTZ pointed out that
