Re: DENNIS LYNN HARBER

On September 17, 1959, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised that at a party in New York in June, 1958, Dennis Harber, 454 West 22nd Street, New York City, an English instructor at the Berlitz School of Languages in New York, and Leonid A. Kovalev became quite friendly. At this party Harber became quite intoxicated and started talking about communism. He appeared to speak with authority and knowledge on communist activities in Spain. The source advised that he had heard Harber had undergone psychiatric treatment in a Veterans Administration (VA) Hospital in the New York City area. (S)

The publication "Staff of the United Nations Secretariat; Report of the Secretary General" dated September, 1959, reflects that Soviet Leonid Kovalev was employed as a translator-trainee at the U.N. Secretariat. (S)

On May 3, 1959, an individual identifying himself as Dennis L. Harber telephoned the FBI office in Kansas City and advised that he had spent several years in South America and in Cuba and had been unofficially connected with a political group in Cuba which had opposed Fidel Castro.

Harber advised that his home was New York and that he had arrived in Kansas City, Missouri, on April 27, 1959, and checked in at the Pickwick Hotel. About 11:30 p.m. on April 28, 1959, he left the hotel and was stopped by four men who spoke to him in Spanish. Two of these men had guns and with the guns forced him into a car and drove away. He said he jumped from the car and hurt himself but escaped from these men.
