Re: "Calabrese Organization"

On May 23, 1964, CV 278-C TE advised he received a call from DOMINICK MALLAMO, aka., "BIG DOM," that day at which time MALLAMO requested he stop down at the Workingmen's Club and see him. (MALLAMO has been previously reported as the active head of the "Calabrese Organization" in the Youngstown area.) Informant stated upon arrival he and MALLAMO talked for a few minutes, and then MALLAMO reached in his pocket and pulled out a wallet, and from the wallet took out two photographs which he exhibited to the informant. Informant looked at the photographs and then MALLAMO asked the informant if he knew these two men, and informant advised he told MALLAMO he did not, and then asked MALLAMO "Are they State men?" and MALLAMO replied they are not, and told the informant to look at them again, which the informant did. Informant stated he had immediately recognized the photographs as being those of SAs FRANK G. DOUDS and STANLEY E. PETERSON. CV 278-C TE stated that MALLAMO then told him, "These are FBIs. They are no good s.o.b.'s. All the FBIs are no good, none of them. This one (pointing to photograph of SA PETERSON) is the Captain (in Italian), he's a no good s.o.b., and this other one here, he's no good s.o.b. too. You be careful of these guys, all of them." Informant stated he assured MALLAMO that he would. Informant asked MALLAMO where he obtained the photographs and he stated they had been copied from a newspaper.

MALLAMO appeared to the informant as being very disturbed, and in Italian asked the informant if the informant would do him a big favor. The informant immediately told MALLAMO he would be happy to do him a favor, and MALLAMO told the informant then that he would like him to come to the C.M.A.S. Club, 19 - 5th Ave., that night, Sat., and act as a lookout on the door from 9:00 PM to 2:00 AM, and he, MALLAMO, would be there by 11:00 PM. Informant agreed to do this, but could not see why MALLAMO needed him when his man, JOHN SALVATORE, would be working in the club and would normally be watching the door. MALLAMO then told the informant he was very upset over the fact that SALVATORE had been subpoenaed before the current Mahoning County Investigative Grand Jury, and that it was possible that SALVATORE could be convicted of something, and SALVATORE would have to leave the club. Informant then told MALLAMO there was nothing for him to worry about, even though he was convicted of something he always had the right to appeal, to which MALLAMO replied, "Appeal with what, that takes money." The informant then told MALLAMO that he, MALLAMO, could loan SALVATORE money for an appeal, and MALLAMO told informant he would not loan SALVATORE any more money, and then took a pencil and on a piece of paper wrote the numerals "18," and said "That's what he owes me now, with three zeros behind it, and I'm not loaning him any more money."

Informant stated on 5/24/64, that on the night of 5/23/64, he watched the door of the C.M.A.S. Club from 9:00 PM until 2:00 AM for MALLAMO. MALLAMO did not arrive until about 11:45 PM, when he appeared with ANTHONY AULISIO, owner of the Aulisio Fish Market, E. Federal St., Youngstown, previously reported as a member of the "Calabrese Organization." MALLAMO asked the informant how everything was, and informant told MALLAMO there was no trouble, in that he turned no one away from the door, and yet he only had about 25 customers in the club. Informant then asked what MALLAMO was so worried about, and MALLAMO exhibited to the informant a list of about twelve auto license numbers, and told the informant these are for "FBI cars." He then told the informant that he had one unmarked police cruiser with two Vice Squad men in plain clothes parked on 5th Ave. outside the club, and another unmarked police cruiser with two Vice Squad men in plain clothes parked in the parking lot opposite the C.M.A.S. Club. If any one of these men spotted an "FBI car" in the neighborhood, then the men in the car in the parking lot would flash their spotlight up into the window of the C.M.A.S. Club, and thereby alert the operators of the "FBI's" presence in the neighborhood. Informant was questioned as to why MALLAMO would possibly think that the FBI might raid the C.M.A.S. Club, or have any interest in the club, and he stated he does not know.

On 5/21/64, CV 544-C advised that even though JOHN SALVATORE is working for MALLAMO, he does not trust him working for him. He stated MALLAMO has learned that SALVATORE has been operating a shylocking business with C.M.A.S. Club funds, which money SALVATORE still owes the club, and to date MALLAMO does not know exactly how much money SALVATORE has taken from the club. CV 544-C also advised that MALLAMO would kill SALVATORE if knew another thing, and that is that in keeping the books of the C.M.A.S. Club, SALVATORE lists $75 per month for the auditor, one (FNU) FORTINE, while he actually pays FORTINE only $25 per month for this. Informant this could never be brought out, in that he, himself, would be harmed if this were known as there are only three persons that know this, SALVATORE, FORTINE and himself.

Re: Prosecution in Local Mahoning County
Court of Common Pleas, Youngstown

On 5/25/64, RONALD DAVID CARABBIA appeared with counsel before Common Pleas Judge SIDNEY RIGELHAUPT seeking a motion for a new trial, which Judge RIGELHAUPT denied. Defense Counsel EDWARD L. WILLIAMS claimed that CARABBIA could not get a fair trial since the CARABBIA name had been so prominent in the courts, press and television several weeks ago when CARABBIA's older brother, CHARLES, was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon. Judge RIGELHAUPT ruled that in his opinion CARABBIA had received a fair trial. He set a probation hearing for
