For the information of the Bureau, on 5/11/64, WALLACE SHANLEY, Assistant Supervising Customs Agent, Miami, Florida, advised SA LEMAN L. STAFFORD, JR., that he had conversed with subject on frequent occasions over the past few months. He stated subject has furnished him very little valuable information in the recent past, and felt at this time that any active investigation conducted by the Miami Office would not jeopardize the relationship between the subject and Customs. SHANLEY added that he is not utilizing subject as a source anymore, though subject does contact him infrequently.

The extensive period of this investigation was necessitated by various expeditious technical matters assigned to the reporting Agent.
