JOHN ELI STONE with the felony violation of the interstate transportation of wagering information statute and also returned an indictment charging STONE, ISADORE MAX MILLER and STONE's brother, JAMES WOODROW STONE in 14 counts of misdemeanor violations, state federal wagering tax stamp statute. This case is pending in U. S. District Court, Dallas.

Because of the above convictions and indictments according to information received from DL T-2, T-3, T-4 and T-6, bookmakers in the Dallas area have become extremely cautious in their activities. They are no longer accepting checks of any kind in payment of gambling debts (nine checks were used as the pertinent evidence in obtaining the indictment of MEADOWS and DRISCOLL) nor will they, if possible, use a telephone in any transactions concerning transmission of point spreads, layoffs, or wagers.

JFK Law 11(a).

In addition to the above, extensive investigation has been conducted by the Dallas FBI Office concerning the bookmaking activities of MELVIN RALPH MARSHALL, FBI #516847A and his associate, RILEY B. BAUCUM, FBI #2485459. This investigation has ascertained that these bookmakers were obtaining race results via long distance telephone from the Delaware Sports Service, Wilmington, Delaware. Investigation also ascertained that during the Spring of 1963 these two men were operating as bookmakers over the telephones located in MARSHALL's residence. As a result of arrests by the Dallas Police Department Vice Squad based on FBI information and the FBI's investigation, both men have ceased their bookmaking operations and are now legally employed, although the investigation concerning the possible violation of federal statutes is continuing.

On February 3, 1964, information was received from DL T-7 that Dallas area bettors, using information obtained from a Nationwide Sports Publications, Inc., Los Angeles, California (operated by SOL GERSHENHORN) publication, were regularly beating the bookmakers in bets placed on basketball. On February 7, 1964, DL T-2 advised that four young Dallas area bettors who, through their legal employment, had access to an IBM machine were feeding data into this machine such as point spread, home team, comparative scores, and based on the results furnished by the machine, were betting on
