The captioned individual is a [station manager of] the Cubana Airlines, Idlewild International Airport, New York City. Recently Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) submitted a name check request concerning [Beliard]. Liaison was requested to determine the purpose of this request.

On June 23, 1961, Mrs. Jane Roman, CIA, advised the Liaison Agent that a Cuban source had suggested to CIA that [Beliard] possibly could be of some use to the Agency in connection with its operations in Cuba. Mrs. Roman stated that essentially CIA's interest would be to obtain assistance from [Beliard].

[REDACTED] CIA is of the opinion that [Beliard] through his contacts in the Cubana Airlines and because of his possible association with individuals who travel regularly between the two countries, could arrange for CIA [REDACTED].

The Liaison Agent requested CIA not to establish any contact with [Beliard] pending further word from the Bureau.
