"We in this country, in this generation, are—by destiny rather than choice—the watchmen on the walls of world freedom."
JOHN F. KENNEDY

"The basis for an ordered world is law."
EARL WARREN
 "The universal expression in the field of human rights of the aims of our world today, a world where the memory is still fresh of some of the worst infringements of human rights ever experienced in history and a world which is also facing the problems of human rights in new and increasingly complicated form, is the significance of the Declaration of Human Rights."
DAG HAMMARSKJOLD

"Any human society, if it is to be well ordered and productive, must lay down as a foundation its principles, namely that every human being is a person, that he has rights and duties of his own, flowing directly and simultaneously from his very nature which are, therefore, universal, inviolable and inalienable. If we look upon the dignity of the human person in the light of divinely revealed truth, we cannot help but esteem it far more highly."
POPE JOHN XXIII

"Human rights will develop only if nations agree on common standards and procedures like Human Rights. What this world needs is a 'Universal Law without a Universal Society', if by universal society is meant a society of which all the human race have a direct connection with a central authority. We will have to be content with a universal society of nations for a long time, carrying out President Kennedy's idea of a world safe for diversity. The effort to realize the Universal Declaration of Human Rights should continue."
QUINCY WRIGHT, former President, The American Society of International Law, Professor, University of Virginia

"The promulgation of World Human Corpus are therefore moving in the right path of instituting upon a discriminating and efficient general principle of law as a method rather than a sovereign political authority as the basis of a world legal order."
Rudolf Pennard, Dean Emeritus, Harvard Law School

"I believe the Rule of Law should cover all the world and in particular, there must be no exemption in the provision of fundamental human rights. I think World Human Corpus is a primary requirement in the national and international societies."
Justice Roberto Tomaha, The International Court of Justice

"World Human Corpus fulfill the demands of the United Nations Charter for respect of Human Rights and address the problem of arrest and detention without due Process of Law which is an abuse of ancient standing and modern exemplification."
Professor Quincy Wright, former President, American Society of International Law

"A movement such as World Human Corpus, promoting the general principles of the Rule of Law and leading towards the acceptance of an international jurisdiction is indeed worthy of the wide support which it has in fact, receiving it with it every."
Lord Harding, Ambassador

"I am ready to cooperate with this most desirable organization of World Human Corpus. The principle 'Peace Through Law' was always one of my ideas concerning the improvement of international relations."
Dr. Hans Salomon

1. World Human Corpus can prove to be the major instrument to realize the creative potential of an international society.
2. World Human Corpus emerges at the right time in the history of man's struggle for liberty and equality. It provides the international legislative process in the prime areas of growth of specific public policy.
3. World Human Corpus is a force tempered by the Charter and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and recognizes the absolute value of the individual. It manifests itself as a courageous self-assertion for individuals and groups in a world society.
4. World Human Corpus repudiates arbitrary power and is devoted to the force of the rule of law.
5. World Human Corpus can be the phenomenon of leverage in international social control and a concrete tool for world peace.

Endorsed among others, by peace actively and we hope it will lead to result on that our common aim will be reached."

Yusef M. Abdulla, Ambassador, Jordan, Amman

"The Government of Cyprus adheres to the principles and principles of the World Human Corpus under as it can be achieved without impairment to national sovereignty or security."
C. Makris, Ministry of External Affairs, Colombo, Ceylon

"In behalf of Sunday School, I have the honor to assure you of our support of World Human Corpus and wish you success in the project in behalf of the world."
John W. Smith, Superintendent, Sunday School, New York

"We in Mexico, by our Constitution, guarantee individual rights through the Justice of Amparo. We express our continued support of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights of Article 30. In view of our history and our law, we take this opportunity to express our approval of World Human Corpus."
Jose Guzman, Secretario de Relaciones Exteriores, Mexico

"I am delighted to acknowledge my appreciation of the concept of World Human Corpus and the International Court of Human Rights. It is a great pleasure for me to declare that I fully endorse the above mentioned concept."
Dr. Hans Salomon

"I do not express my own and deep belief in stating that the Rule of Law is the ideal means for safeguarding Human Rights and, consequently, the dignity of the International Community. Likewise, it is a great pleasure for me to declare that I fully endorse the above mentioned concept."
Dr. Hans Salomon

"No national or international justice could possibly be administered in a sound manner without the correction of the great principle of the Rule of Law in any National or International system."
Dr. Hans Salomon, Director General and Legal Advisor of the Government of Qatar

"I trust that the action of the World Human Corpus, through the institution of a World Law system, will be the most important task of our civilization and the main achievement of human progress."
Silvio Testa, President of the Supreme Court of Cassation of Italy

1. Attached is self-explanatory data on one Luis KUTNER, sent to FLEMING of MIDA, which functions under AID contract. KUTNER must be some kind of a nut as he lists himself three times on his own letterhead and claims to be editing a book co-authored by Roscoe POUND, who according to KUTNER's own letterhead is deceased. KUTNER is unknown to us.

2. It may be useful to card his name, if he is unknown to Headquarters.
