SUBJECT: Army Contacts with Cuban Activist Groups (C)

TO: The Secretary of Defense

PURPOSE
(C) To inform the Secretary of Defense on the current contacts maintained by Army with Cuban exile groups who have been engaging in raids against Cuba.

FACTS

1. (S) Following is a synopsis of Army contacts with Alpha-66 and related splinter groups:

   a. ALPHA-66: Contact was initially established on 20 October 1962 with meetings with Antonio VELASQUEZ, the overt leader of the group. The purpose of these and subsequent meetings was to exploit the organization's potential to obtain intelligence information from Cuba. Contacts have subsequently continued with members of the Alpha-66 group.

   b. COMMANDO L-66: This splinter group of Alpha-66 was created in June 1962 when members of Alpha-66 refused to follow Velasquez because he proposed an amalgamation of Alpha-66 with the Second Front of the Escambray, another anti-Castro group. They initially called themselves "Platoon 29", but are now called "Commando L-66". The commander of the group is purportedly Leandro A. CABALLOS-Piernas, who approached the Army on 19 March 1963, and offered to cooperate in furnishing information. A request from the field unit for guidance was received on 27 March 1963, but no response has been made.

   c. Second Front of the Escambray: This unit was consolidated with Alpha-66 about June 1962, and all Army contacts have been made with members allegedly belonging to Alpha-66.

2. (S) Personnel contacted and their purported positions are as follows:

   a. Felix GUTIERREZ-Navarro, a registered Army source, the war leader of the Alpha-66 Second Front of the Escambray.

   b. Antonio VELASQUEZ, a registered Army source, the overt leader and public spokesman for Alpha-66.

4. Leonardo A. GERALDO-Peirano, the leader of Comando L-66.

5. (S) During all Army contacts, Army has received no advance information concerning raids, except in the broadest possible terms on one occasion last October. Army has given no sanction, approval, or support to the Alpha-66 group in the conduct of these raids.
