Marjorie Swann

All information contained in this communication should be classified "Confidential" unless specified otherwise.

On September 21, 1972, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the subject recently met with representatives of the Vietcong in Paris, France.

Swann along with Louise Bruyn, arrived in Paris after the War Resisters International Conference which was held in England in the latter part of July, 1972. Swann and Bruyn presented proposals to the Hanoi delegates concerning United States women activists going to North Vietnam for a long period of time. These proposals were neither accepted nor rejected, by the North Vietnamese.

Swann and Bruyn were advised by the Communist representatives to plan, prepare, and recruit. An organizing center has been set up at Women Volunteers to Vietnam, 434 Center Street, Newton, Massachusetts.

The Quaker International Center, which is located in Paris and is in frequent contact with the North Vietnamese delegation in Paris, aided Swann and Bruyn.

Reference is made to FBI memorandum dated
October 27, 1972 at New York, New York.

On February 27, 1973 a source, who has furnished
reliable information in the past, advised that Marjorie Swann and her husband, Robert Swann, reside in a three family house on West Road in Ashby. E. APPROX 1970

Marjorie Swann, age 49, is a bookkeeper and her husband, age 53, is a builder and a school teacher somewhere in New Hampshire. They have a daughter, age 17, and a son about 15 years old.

The Swanns came to Ashby about a year ago from Connecticut. They have never caused any trouble in Ashby and have no arrest record there.

According to the source, Mrs. Swann was going to sponsor a meeting on the evening of February 28, 1973 at the Unitarian Church in Ashby. The purpose of the meeting was to attempt to recruit civilians to go to North Vietnam and help rebuild and rehabilitate that country.

The source said that there are three families
including the Swanns who live in the same house together, on West Road, Ashby. He said he would not describe it as a commune but that all of the occupants seem to be of the same liberal mind and tendencies. Susan Webster who is one of the residents, signed a petition in the fall of 1972
to run a Communist Party candidate on the ballot in Ashby, as an opponent to Richard Nixon, in the Presidential Election.

ENCLOSURE

MARJORIE SWANN

The "Boston Globe", a daily newspaper published in Boston, Massachusetts, in its issue of August 21, 1972 carried an article entitled, "Ashby Woman Would Form Group to do "Penance" in North Vietnam."

The above article in part read:

"A woman active in the antiwar movement said yesterday she wants to organize a group of about 40 women who would live and work in North Vietnam "as a sort of penance for the policies and actions of the United States."

"Mrs. Marjorie Swann, 51, said in a telephone interview that she has discussed the idea in Paris with representatives of North Vietnam, the Viet Cong and the Vietnam Buddhist Assn."...

"Mrs. Swann said she and another antiwar activist Mrs. Louise Bruyn of Newton, were in Paris July 27 - August 5 to present the idea to the Vietnamese."...

"She said she would have no fear of living in Communist territory. "I believe our reception would probably be quite warm for the most part," she said.

"So far, she said, about 50 women have indicated they would be interested in the trip. The women range in age from 18 to 74, she said.

"We would set up a good screening process because of the hard living conditions we can expect," she said."

MARJORIE SWANN

In March, 1973 sources familiar with certain phases of subversive activity in Massachusetts, advised they had no information concerning Marjorie Swann.

ReBSlet and LHM dated 3/16/73, captioned "Marjorie Swann, SM - Subversive."

Character in instant investigation has been changed to "IS - NORTH VIETNAM" to more closely depict the scope of current activities in which captioned individuals appear to be involved.

Referenced memorandum advises that in the 8/21/72 issue of the "Boston Globe," a daily newspaper, an article indicated that captioned individuals had, while in Paris 7/27/72 through 8/5/72, discussed with representatives of North Vietnam and the Viet Cong a proposal whereby a group of American women would travel to North Vietnam to live and work "as a sort of penance for the policies and actions of the U. S." Reportedly, the proposal was then under consideration by the Vietnamese officials involved.

New York letter and LHM dated 10/27/72, captioned "Marjorie Swann, SM - Subversive," copies of which were directed to your office, indicated that as of 9/72, an organizing center named "Women Volunteers to Vietnam" had been established in Newton, Massachusetts, for the above purpose.

It is further noted that referenced memorandum of 3/16/73 advised that a source of your office on 2/27/73, advised that Marjorie Swann, on 2/28/73, was going to sponsor a meeting in Ashby, Massachusetts, the purpose of which was to attempt to recruit civilians to go to North Vietnam to help rebuild and rehabilitate that country. communication indicating that the above meeting was actually held.

Headquarters is not in receipt of information, other than above, positively indicating that a group of Americans are planning to travel to North Vietnam for the above-stated purpose. Obviously, this information would be of interest to the State Department and the intelligence community in Washington, D. C. Through reliable sources only, you should attempt to determine if the above meeting of 2/28/73 was held and ascertain whether or not a group is actually being formed to travel to North Vietnam. If affirmative, pertinent details relating to such travel, such as dates, leadership and finances, should be ascertained. During your inquiries, be alert for possible violation of the Registration Act or other applicable Federal statutes on the part of the subjects.

Furnish results to Headquarters in form suitable for dissemination under appropriate caption, accompanied by your recommendation as to additional action deemed necessary.

NOTE:

Available information indicates that subjects, during their 1972 travel to Paris, were aided by the Quaker International Center. Both subjects in newspaper clippings have been identified as activists in the American peace movement. There is no indication in Headquarters files indicating organizational affiliation on the part of either. Headquarters files contain no references to the "Women Volunteers to Vietnam."

Reference is made to FBI memorandum dated March 16, 1973 at Boston, Massachusetts.

On May 9, 1973 a source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Marjorie Swann resides in Ashby, Massachusetts, and she is employed nearby in the office of Cushing Academy, a private boarding school in Ashburnham, Massachusetts.

This source went on to say that Marjorie Swann is one of the leaders in that area of the so called "Counter Culture," who favor drug usage, have demonstrated against the war in Vietnam and who are generally opposed to policies of the U.S. Government. He stated that she has, on more than one occasion, been a participant in the "talk show" known as "Frankly Speaking," which is sponsored by a Fitchburg, Massachusetts, radio station. On these radio appearances she has promoted her ideas of organizing people to go to North Vietnam to help work and rebuild that country.

The source advised that Swann had held a meeting in Ashby on February 28, 1973, at the Unitarian Church, and very few people were in attendance. He further advised that it was his understanding that Swann's promotion of a trip to Vietnam had practically "fizzled" and that many of the individuals who had initially supported Swann and her idea had reneged on actually participating in such a trip.

The source related that Marjorie Swann is an intelligent shrewd woman, who by virtue of her prior trip to North Vietnam and her compatability with the younger

100-474015-4

"drug culture," has assumed a leadership position of this type of people in the Ashby area. The source concluded, however, that her support was very limited in the community.

Swann was born February 15, 1921, Social Security Number JFK Act 6 (3), and resides on West Road, Ashby, Massachusetts.

The New England Committee For Non-Violent Action (NECNVA) on 1/20/71 conducted a "Freedom Walk" from the Conn. Correctional Center, Montville, Conn. to Conn. College New London, Conn., and again on 1/21/71 from New London, Conn. to the Conn. Correctional Center, Niantic, Conn., under the direction of MAJORIE SWAN, Staff Member of the NECNVA, which has headquarters at Voluntown, Conn. According to information furnished by Troopers ROBERT OFTEN and ROBERT BEDELL, Conn. State Police, Groton, Conn., 7 persons participated in the walk on 1/20/71 and 10 persons on 1/21/71. Both walks were conducted without incident and little or no attention was given to the walk by the public.

The NECNVA by news release to the local press demanded an end to the "sympathetic government oppression of the Black Panther Party" and reaffirmed the NECNVA belief in a non-violent means of social change.

ON JUNE FOUR, LAST, SOURCE WHO HAS FURNISHED RELIABLE INFORMATION IN THE PAST, ADVISED THAT APPROXIMATELY FOURTEEN MEMBERS OF THE CAPTIONED GROUP ASSEMBLED AT THE GATE OF ELECTRIC BOAT COMPANY GROTON, CONN., TO PROTEST THE LAUNCHING OF ONE HUNDREDTH NUCLEAR SUBMARINE. THE DEMONSTRATION LASTED FROM APPROXIMATELY NINE THIRTY AM TO FOUR PM AND ENTAILED THE HANDING OUT OF LEAFLETS DENOUNCING THE LAUNCHING TO WORKERS AS THEY WENT TO LUNCH AT ELEVEN THIRTY. DEMONSTRATORS WERE POORLY RECEIVED AND OF TWENTY FOUR HUNDRED PREPARED LEAFLETS, ONLY APPROXIMATELY FIFTY WERE ACCEPTED. DEMONSTRATORS WERE NOT ALLOWED CLOSE ENOUGH TO OBSERVE THE LAUNCHING. THERE WERE NO INCIDENTS OR ARRESTS.

THIS SAME GROUP PLANS TO RETURN AT NINE THIRTY AM AT ELECTRIC BOAT TO PROTEST THE LAYING OF THE KEEL AT WHICH SECRETARY OF DEFENSE, MELVIN R. LAIRD, WILL APPEAR. THE GROUP HAS INDICATED NO INTENTION OF PHYSICAL HARM OR VIOLENCE DIRECTED AT LAIRD AND PLAN BASICALLY TO REPEAT THE ABOVE ACTIONS.

END THE DRAFT REGIONAL CONFERENCE

SEPTEMBER 17 - 19

... to make the draft inoperable in the Northeast

A regional conference for people interested in mounting an intensive nonviolent campaign, based on the assumption that there is no reason for anyone to be drafted into the U.S. military.

A campaign, not a demonstration or series of demonstrations, not a mobilization, parade or rally as appropriate as all these are, but a program of comparatively long and specific duration aimed at immobilizing Selective Service throughout our area through all levels of action, persuasion and education, engaging every possible community resource.

We look forward to a decentralized effort with a common approach. A major purpose of the conference is to identify specific goals realizable through nonviolent action, attainable goals along the road to the eradication of the draft. We need experiences of real success to energize the movement and to bring the ultimate goal closer.

Come together to work out strategies and to learn skills in:

- noncooperation
- nonviolent direct action at draft boards and induction stations
- getting draft board members to resign
- overcooperation
- mounting a broad based educational campaign
- making draft information centers more effective
- draft board research
- mill-ins
- early morning shows

TIME: From dinnertime (about 6 p.m.) Friday, September 17, to lunch, Sunday, September 19.

COST: $12 covers room, board and program. Please register in advance with a $5 (unreturnable) deposit for each person planning to attend. If you're really short of bread we can arrange something.

100-426761-1785

DIRECTIONS TO CNVA FARM:

From Exit 135 on the Connecticut Turnpike take Route 138 East through Voluntown, picking up Route 165. Bear left on Rt. 165 where it splits from Rt. 138. The CNVA sign hangs from the left about $\frac{1}{4}$ mile down Rt. 165 from the fork.

From Boston-Providence take exit 58 from I-95 onto Route 102. Turn right off Rt. 102 onto Rt. 3. At the first light turn right onto Rt. 165. Go about ten miles and look for the CNVA sign on the right.

Bring a sleeping bag, bathing suit, comfortable clothes and lots of ideas. Between sessions there is time for swimming, roaming in the woods, singing, reading from the CNVA library-- all in a setting of woods, fields, fresh air and friendly people.

I expect to attend the END THE DRAFT CONFERENCE

a deserter who is now in hiding. Among the articles taken from the trio and reportedly still held by the police department was a notebook which allegedly contained names and numbers of members of "movement" contacts in Quebec, Canada, Algeria, and domestically. She stated that she felt the Elizabeth P.D. had not really gone through the notebook or they would have turned it over to the FBI. She based this conclusion on the fact that SMART has made no mention to her of FBI attempts to locate him. She stated that her personal friends had helped hide the deserter before moving him on. She advised she would forward the name of the deserter to New Haven so that the New Haven Office of the VVAW could make sure the deserter's name did not appear in any of their records.

The above information is being furnished to Newark as it may be of some intelligence value.

New Haven upon learning the identity of the deserter will forward same to Newark as possibility exists he may be Bureau fugitive. Newark should be most discreet in any future action on this information as it would undoubtedly led to exposure of New Haven informant.

THE END THE DRAFT REGIONAL CONFERENCE
IN VOLUNTOWN, CONNECTICUT
SEPTEMBER 17-19, 1971

On September 20, 1971, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished the following information:

On September 17, 1971, approximately forty people representing various peace groups throughout New England met at the Communal Farm of the New England Committee for Non Violent Action in Voluntown, Connecticut, for the End the Draft Regional Conference.

The New England Committee for Non Violent Action (NECNVA) is self-described as a non-partisan pacifist organization formed to protest the defense policy of the Government and to "enable millions of Americans to resist by non-violent means--any tyranny or foreign invasion." It is headquartered on a 40 acre farm in Voluntown, Connecticut, where conferences, weekend seminars, work camps and training programs in non-violence are held.

The purpose of the meeting during the evening of September 17, 1971, was to establish workshop guidelines for the rest of the weekend. ART BOYD of Cambridge, Massachusetts, American Friends Service Committee, appeared to be leading the group in discussion. At 2:00 a.m. the meeting was still bogged down in total disagreement. The only thing that was agreed upon was that they wanted to end the draft and if necessary hamper the function of the draft boards and induction centers, but although a great many ideas were noted, no more than four or five people could agree on any one point, and then the agreement of that small group was not in total. Either they disagreed ideologically or politically or on the different needs of different areas or on the role of liberated women or many other similar points. It also became quite apparent that none of the people there really wanted to wind up in jail, and they showed much revolutionary fervor until it became a matter of committing themselves to a cause that might place themselves in jeopardy. The different ideas were placed on a blackboard and discussed by various members of the groups, and dealt with the following subjects:

- Draft board "buddy" system (make friends with members of draft boards and try to convince them to resign);

- Boarding busses containing inductees;

- Chaining oneself to busses for inductees;

- Destroying files;

- Appearing at draft boards and induction centers dressed as death;

- Boycotting busses owned by draft board members;

- Swamping draft boards with varied mail, i.e. swamping draft boards with requests to review individual files, daily notifications of health status and/or changes, having women flooding draft boards with requests for equal induction status;

THE END THE DRAFT REGIONAL CONFERENCE
IN VOLUNTOWN, CONNECTICUT,
SEPTEMBER 17-19, 1971

Start campaign in junior and senior
high schools concerning draft counseling;

Leafleting, picketing for use of harassing
tactics against draft board members which would include picketing their homes
and places of employment.

At one point, a spokesman who remained unnamed for a group which he did not identify, made a short speech concerning the fact that he and his people felt that the overall group was doing nothing more than re-stating things that had already been tried in other areas of the country and that this meeting had nothing new to offer and that they would also become entangled and crippled by its own diversity, and that he was pulling out the next morning. Shortly thereafter a young man got up and made an hysterical speech about the group becoming violent in that it was voicing open disagreement and that if it did not stop, he would explode and jump on somebody. He continued raving and became more emotional and less coherent and screamed again that he would "jump out of his skin and onto someone if the disagreement continued." He finally sat down, muttered to himself, and shook for the remainder of the meeting. At 2:00 a.m. the meeting ended without the group even being able to agree on the hour for breakfast.

At approximately 9:30 a.m. on September 18, 1971, it was decided to discuss the procedure all over again. Approximately one hour later it was decided that nothing was being accomplished and so the meeting broke down into groups of 10 individuals, but it appeared that even at this level nothing could be accomplished. The discussion came to an end around 12 noon.

THE END THE DRAFT REGIONAL CONFERENCE
IN VOLUNTOWN, CONNECTICUT,
SEPTEMBER 17-19, 1971

The atmosphere of the meeting was one of extreme paranoia with most of the individuals not identifying themselves even by a first name, nor would they identify the group they were representing. Those whose identification was made known are as follows:

Member
JACK SMITH, Vietnam Veterans Against the War, 53 Wall Street, New Haven, Connecticut;

Member JACK SHATTUCK, New York American Friends Service Committee, made reference to having spent time in prison for actions concerning anti-draft activities;

CONN. TOM CORNELL, Catholic Peace Fellowship;

CONN. JEAN KEELAN, 25 Oakwood Place, Elizabeth, New Jersey, affiliated with Elizabeth, New Jersey peace group;

CONN. LAURIE TORGAN, 376 West Clarkstown Road, Spring Valley, New York, Women's Liberation advocate; and

CONN. DAVID DANKOVIC, 249 South Pugh Street, State College, Pennsylvania, spoke of no group affiliation.

END THE DRAFT REGIONAL CONFERENCE, SPONSORED

CONNECTICUT
SEPTEMBER 17-19, 1971

On September 22, 1971, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished the following:

On September 17-19, 1971, CNVA sponsored an End-The-Draft Regional Conference at its farm at Voluntown, Connecticut. This farm is a center for social action run by CNVA. The Coordinator for the weekend was Ray Andrews of the CNVA staff, a white male formerly from Norwich, Connecticut. (It is noted that all who attended the Conference were white). Art Boyd of Cambridge, Massachusetts, and Chuck Noell of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, were leaders of the Conference. Jack Shattuck of South Orange, New Jersey, represented the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC) and Tom Cornell from New York City led a contingent from the Catholic Peace Fellowship (CPF), New York, New York.

The purpose of the Conference was to work out a campaign for ending the Selective Service System, a long-range goal, which the participants know will take a long time.

SEPTEMBER 17-19, 1971

The group spent Friday evening, September 17, 1971, and Saturday morning, September 18, 1971, discussing tactics and methods of making the draft inoperable. The group listed facets and people within the current system which might interfere with effective functioning of the draft. Also listed were the following tactics:

1. Leafleting, boycotting and sitting down in front of buses carrying inductees or men going for physicals.
2. An action at the Armed Forces Examination and Entrance Station (AFEES), described as a good point to cause a bottleneck.
3. Attempt to get draft board member "buddies," and keep them "informed" by telephonic and other contacts.
4. Interference with administration, such as:

"Spectre" - go to a draft board office dressed as "Death," and screech, et cetera.

"Over-cooperation Transformation" - work to turn the draft office or AFEES into something else.
5. Mail and communications to the board.
6. Pouring blood on or removing draft files.
7. Attempt to "bail out" local board clerks by sending them literature on other job possibilities, "educating" them.
8. Approaching the registrants themselves.

9. Approaching the State Governor.
10. Obtaining lists of 18 year olds to approach, such as 18 year old voters.
11. Mass education campaigns directed at the public.
12. Boycotts and strikes.
13. Negotiations with United States Senators.

The approach taken was to look at the draft to see what makes it operate, and to try to find a way to halt it, The campaign's criteria were:

1. Its relevance to the public.
2. Different tactics designed so anyone can fit in.
3. Positive outlook and alternatives.
4. Build up momentum.
5. Clearly define goals and clearly differentiate between means and goals.
6. Have built-in short-range successes - victories.
7. Wise use of the media for an education campaign.

On September 17, 1971, the group became somewhat divided as to the purpose of the weekend, and three people from Binghamton, New York, left the Conference. Some people wanted to discuss local tactics and actions, but not work on a campaign.

On September 18, 1971, the Conference broke up into small groups to go over actions, education or legal methods for the campaign. These groups were to use former experiences and creative ideas to work for the campaign. One group then divided into two smaller groups, one discussing an education campaign, and the other direct action. In the afternoon, the whole group met to discuss the morning and plans were made for an evening game. The game was a role-playing of a community. The group assigned different persons to represent seven parts of the community which functioned "as usual": campaigners, students, blacks, parents, the Chamber of Commerce, Draft Board and the City Government. The game showed those attending the Conference where and how problems arise, and pointed out the serious lack of communication within the community.

On September 19, 1971, in the morning, the group returned to discuss the plans for a campaign. No direct action campaign was agreed to or planned, but persons attending made contacts with others of similar interests, and plans for a future action or actions may result at a later date.

Those who discussed direct action in the smaller group alluded to above, on September 18, 1971, included Tom Cornell, Paul Fraser, Jean Kijek, Rita Neimeyer, Jack Shattuck, Ray Andres, Gary Lynes and Linda Meadowcroft. The group started by discussing the value of draft board raids, like the recent Camden, New Jersey, action. It was the general consensus that that type of raid at night was not very successful in ending the draft. In fact, it was agreed that the Selective Service System has copies of files, and the damage done is to the registrants applying for deferments. The group also agreed that such actions antagonize the public by the way they are done.

Tom Cornell stated that any direct action on a draft board office should be announced and done openly. He suggested going in and pouring blood on the files. Gary Lynes suggested that they aim the action at draft board members by pouring sugar in their car gas tanks, or in the bus gas tanks on the days of physicals at AFES.

The group discussed using the time of physicals to tour the AFEES and millaaround. Cornell suggested going to the office to do an action called "Spectre" - walk in dressed like death and screech and open a bag of animal intestines, seemingly pouring them from your body. Another person suggested the "buddy" system of selecting a draft board member to picket, write to, talk with, et cetera, to get the member to quit or make changes.

Cornell suggested sitting in mourning in draft boards, or "hiring" an Irish professional mourner to wail and cry over the deaths of Vets.

No final plan or campaign was decided on in the direct action section of the Conference. It was strongly felt that getting to know the board members as well as possible was a good method to begin making yourself and your views known, over and over.

Mike Murphy, of Englewood, New Jersey, summarized the final results of the Conference as follows:

Art Boyd of AFSC, Cambridge, Massachusetts, offered the "final Draft Newsletter" to serve as the communication link for the campaign, to inform people of activities. The goal of the campaign is to make the draft as inoperative as possible, and to show the public alternative systems of society. (Alternative systems means other uses for draft board and AFEES facilities).

The activities suggested are: a "peace bridge" for the American exiles in Canada; the so-called "Charlottesville Pledge" was acceptable to many (pledged non-cooperation with draft by masses of people); Paul Frazer's suggestion of having people register at draft boards for activities other than the draft, and alternative buses at AFEES to offer transportation to a constructive alternative; destruction of billboards bearing draft advertisements, particularly on Federal highways, where, it was said, billboards are illegal; and the previously explained harrassment of "buddies" on local boards.

Paul Fraser told about a plan, mentioned above, to have 500 Canadian exiles meet at the bridge to return to the United States. The plan is to cause a backlog in the legal machinery of the draft and make it open to the public.

A future follow-up meeting may be held, to compare what has been done and to work toward a joint action.

During the course of the Conference, Sister Elizabeth Hillman of Tewksbury, Massachusetts, advised that she is a friend of Father Philip Berrigan. She said that the arrest of John Peter Grady in the Camden break-in was a real blow to the "Movement." She said Grady is the key person to many of the actions (which ones unspecified), and he knew who to contact and how to put people in touch with one another. She stated that she has not participated in any of the actions. She declared that no one had expected that they would all get arrested, so no provisions had been made.

Philip and Daniel Berrigan are currently serving Federal prison terms for convictions stemming from draft file destruction in Maryland.

Also during the Conference, Mike De Gregory told a story about the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) coming to the home of one Mr. Cunningham in Camden, New Jersey, looking for Grady. After a brief altercation, Agents left and later returned in force. He said that a meeting was going on in the house when Agents first approached it.

On September 19, 1971, there was a liturgy and vigil at Danbury Federal Correctional Institution, Danbury, Connecticut. At about 11:15 am, Fred Lord, Jena Kijek, Sister Elizabeth Hillman, Jean Keelan and Rita Neimeyer left CNVA for Danbury. Mike True was the coordinator of the liturgy.

About 34 persons were present outside the main gates of Danbury Prison, most from the Worcester, Massachusetts "Floating Parish." From about 1:15 pm until about 1:45 pm, the liturgical service was conducted. A vigil began thereafter. Nearly everyone but about five persons who remained for a continuing vigil then left the prison at about 2:15 for lunch. From lunch, they returned home. It appeared that the group at Danbury was strongly and emotionally pro-Berrigan Brothers, and they all called for those present to return October 2, 1971, to the Danbury area for a demonstration, the location for which is still in litigation. Among those present at this liturgy and vigil were Marian Shindel, of the Floating Parish, who said she is a friend of Dan Berrigan, and a (First Name Unknown) Clark, from the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW). CONN.

RESISTANCE

dear brothers and sisters,

the local draft board on church street in spring valley is still going about "business as usual". the reality of this is that many young men from our community are being processed into a brutal war which the draft continues to serve. we must take the responsibility of letting our draft board know that the community of resistance in rockland county is growing and working on many levels.

we believe the program described here is a foundation for the building of that visible community of conscience. we have attempted to make the program sensitive to the different needs of people and flexible enough to find a place in their various living situations. it is open to new possibilities for action and education. we trust that you will be exploring these possibilities with us.

please join us, in the belief that we are all responsible for what goes on in our community. through action flowing from the spirit of love and openness, we trust that we can reach the people who work at the draft board and those in the county who oppose our efforts.

FROM CONSON TO DANBURY WE ARE ALL PRISONERS

FOR INFORMATION
CALL 212 691 7410

On October 2nd, we are marching on Danbury Federal Prison -- and on prisons around the country -- to unite ourselves with the Danbury Resisters and other prisoners.

On August 6th, the Danbury Resisters released a statement and began a fast and work stoppage which, in Fr. Daniel Berrigan's words, "called attention to the duplicity and non-accountability of the Federal Parole Board" and which "dared to link crimes against domestic prisoners to crimes against Vietnamese prisoners."

They demanded:

1. Major reforms of a parole system that has recently boasted a 12.6% decline in parole grants.
2. An early review of the parole application of Fr. Philip Berrigan and a parole grant for Fr. Daniel Berrigan, whose poor health has led Danbury doctors to predict continuing physical deterioration so long as he remains in prison.
3. An end to the U. S. -funded tiger cages used for political prisoners in South Vietnam.

Demands issued by a similar group -- the Committee on Prisons of South Vietnam -- have been added as our own. These include:

1. The end to U. S. funding and staffing of prisons and interrogation camps for political suspects in South Vietnam.
2. The release of all those who are sick, disabled, and are being held without trial, or whose sentences have now expired.

The October 2nd date coincides with the non-elections of South Vietnam in order to make clearer the connection between the political use of prisons in both the U. S. and South Vietnam, and most especially, imprisoning of activists for peace and justice in both countries.

WHY THE DRAFT?

A color television videotape on the draft, the war and American militarism

with: Earth Family Theater Troupe
Rev. Paul Deats of Clergy and Laymen Concerned
Katherine Knight of the American Friends Service Committee
Frederick Lord of the National Council to Repeal the Draft
Rev. Paul Treat of Citizens for Participation Politics

The program discusses the draft and its relation to American tradition, the militarization of American society, and the war in Indochina. It presents the issues involved in ending the draft, and is interspersed with mock "commercials" prepared by the Earth Family Theater Troupe. It was originally broadcast on Channel 44 in Boston, April 2, 1971.

Suggested for schools, colleges and cable TV stations.
Recorded on half-inch helical scan tape useable on any Type 1 standard videotape machine.

What is upsetting our campuses are the real and terrifyingly large and difficult problems besetting our whole society. One of these has a special impact on the campus. That is the draft.

Nothing now so poisons academic life in America as the draft. To draft about 400,000 men each year, we keep about 5 million young men between the ages of 19 and 26 continuously on tenterhooks. And don't think the young women aren't there, too! Our entire younger generation, students, and even more nonstudents, is kept in a continuous state of insecurity and uncertainty, unable to plan their lives.

Almost all the students I teach were born since World War II. Just after World War II, a series of new and abnormal procedures came into American life. We regarded them at the time as temporary aberrations. We thought we would get back to normal American life some day.

But those procedures have stayed with us now for more than 20 years, and those students of mine have never known anything else. They think those things are normal. They think we've always had a Pentagon, that we have always had a big army and that we always had a draft. But those are all new things in American life, and I think that they are incompatible with what America meant before.

A peacetime draft is the most unAmerican thing I know. All the time I was growing up, I was told about oppressive Central European countries and Russia, where young men were forced into the army, and I was told what they did about it. They chopped off a finger, or shot off a couple of toes; or better still, if they could manage it, they came to this country. And we understood that, and sympathized, and were glad to welcome them.

Now, by present estimates, 4,000 to 6,000 Americans of draft age have left this country for Canada, another 2,000 or 3,000 have gone to Europe and it looks as though many more are preparing to emigrate.

There are choices in getting rid of the draft. I think that when we get rid of the draft, we must also cut back on the size of the armed forces. It seems to me that in peacetime a total of one million men is surely enough.

I don't think we can live with the present military establishment and its $80-100 billion a year budget and keep America anything like we have known it in the past. It is corrupting the life of the whole country. It is buying up everything in sight: industries, banks, investors, universities, and lately it seems also to have bought up the labor unions.

I say that the Vietnam war is just an immediate incident, because so long as we keep that big an army, it will always find things to do. If the Vietnam war stopped tomorrow, with that big a military establishment, the chances are that we would be in another such adventure abroad or at home before you knew it.

Dont' reform the draft - - get rid of it.

Captioned organization continues to maintain a communal farm at Voluntown, Conn., staffed by approximately a half dozen individuals. Their activities are anti-war in nature and this case is currently in a closed status at New Haven.

(NH 624-PSI) continues periodic contact with NECNVA and their activities have been handled under individual case caption such as the "War Tax Resistance" (WTR) and the recent bicycle sojourn through New England by WTR participants.

Their activities have been non-violent in nature and poorly attended receiving little or no publicity in Conn. However, New Haven will continue coverage of the farm through informants for intelligence purposes as the farm does offer anonymity and could be logically used by those individuals in a fugitive status.

NEW ENGLAND COMMITTEE FOR
NON-VIOLENT ACTION (NECNVA)

According to literature distributed in the past by the Committee for Non-Violent Action (CNVA), this group was originally formed in 1957 as the National Committee for Non-Violent Action Against Nuclear Weapons.

A press release issued June 1, 1960, by the CNVA, 158 Grand Street, New York City, noted that the CNVA described itself as a non-partisan pacifist organization which would begin to center its activities in the New London-Groton, Connecticut area, but activities would also "spread from New York to Boston in a series of peace walks, demonstrations, and public meetings."

A leaflet distributed by CNVA in 1960 described the intent of the organization to protest the defense policy of the Government and to "enable millions of Americans to resist by non-violent means----any tyranny or foreign invasion." The leaflet listed certain acceptable resistance techniques as "refusal to serve in the armed forces or work in military industries; refusal to pay Federal income taxes which go for guns and bombs."

"The Hartford Courant", a daily newspaper published in Hartford, Connecticut, noted on August 20, 1961, that the CNVA "maintains two offices in this country, one being in New York and the other in New London, Connecticut."

A solicitation letter dated September 29, 1960, noted that members of NECNVA, an adjunct for CNVA, held the initial meeting of the NECNVA at New London, Connecticut, on September 25, 1960.

Literature distributed by NECNVA in 1968, noted, "Today the NECNVA conducts a region-wide program in six New England States in eastern New York State, and occasionally across the border with Canadians in the peace movement."

"CHARACTERIZATION OF SUBVERSIVE ORGANIZATION"

The New England Committee for Non-Violent Action (NECNVA) publicly announced in September 1960 that its initial meeting was held at New London, Connecticut, on September, 25, 1960.

The NECNVA is self-described as a non-partisan pacifist organization formed to protest the defense policy of the government and to "enable millions of Americans to resist by non-violent means---any tyranny or foreign invasion." Some of its accepted resistance techniques included "refused to serve in the armed forces or work in military industries", and "refusal to pay federal income taxes which go for guns and bombs."

The NECNVA is headquartered on a 40 acre farm in Voluntown, Connecticut.

Marjorie Swann

All information contained in this communication should be classified "Confidential" unless specified otherwise.

On September 21, 1972, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the subject recently met with representatives of the Vietcong in Paris, France.

Swann along with Louise Bruyn, arrived in Paris after the War Resisters International Conference which was held in England in the latter part of July, 1972. Swann and Bruyn presented proposals to the Hanoi delegates concerning United States women activists going to North Vietnam for a long period of time. These proposals were neither accepted nor rejected, by the North Vietnamese.

Swann and Bruyn were advised by the Communist representatives to plan, prepare, and recruit. An organizing center has been set up at Women Volunteers to Vietnam, 434 Center Street, Newton, Massachusetts.

The Quaker International Center, which is located in Paris and is in frequent contact with the North Vietnamese delegation in Paris, aided Swann and Bruyn.

MARJORIE SWANN

Reference is made to FBI memorandum dated
October 27, 1972 at New York, New York.

On February 27, 1973 a source, who has furnished
reliable information in the past, advised that Marjorie Swann and her husband, Robert Swann, reside in a three family house on West Road in Ashby. S. J. G. 19 80

N.H.
Marjorie Swann, age 49, is a bookkeeper and her husband, age 53, is a builder and a school teacher somewhere in New Hampshire. They have a daughter, age 17, and a son about 15 years old.

The Swanns came to Ashby about a year ago from Connecticut. They have never caused any trouble in Ashby and have no arrest record there.

According to the source, Mrs. Swann was going to sponsor a meeting on the evening of February 28, 1973 at the Unitarian Church in Ashby. The purpose of the meeting was to attempt to recruit civilians to go to North Vietnam
and help rebuild and rehabilitate that country.

The source said that there are three families
including the Swanns who live in the same house together, on West Road, Ashby. He said he would not describe it as a commune but that all of the occupants seem to be of the same liberal mind and tendencies. Susan Webster who is one of the residents, signed a petition in the fall of 1972
to run a Communist Party candidate on the ballot in Ashby, as an opponent to Richard Nixon, in the Presidential Election.

The "Boston Globe", a daily newspaper published in Boston, Massachusetts, in its issue of August 21, 1972 carried an article entitled, "Ashby Woman Would Form Group to do "Penance" in North Vietnam."

The above article in part read:

"A woman active in the antiwar movement said yesterday she wants to organize a group of about 40 women who would live and work in North Vietnam "as a sort of penance for the policies and actions of the United States."

"Mrs. Marjorie Swann, 51, said in a telephone interview that she has discussed the idea in Paris with representatives of North Vietnam, the Viet Cong and the Vietnam Buddhist. Assn."...

"Mrs. Swann said she and another antiwar activist Mrs. Louise Bruyn of Newton, were in Paris July 27 - August 5 to present the idea to the Vietnamese."...

"She said she would have no fear of living in Communist territory. "I believe our reception would probably be quite warm for the most part," she said.

"So far, she said, about 50 women have indicated they would be interested in the trip. The women range in age from 18 to 74, she said.

"We would set up a good screening process because of the hard living conditions we can expect," she said."

MARJORIE SWANN

In March, 1973 sources familiar with certain phases of subversive activity in Massachusetts, advised they had no information concerning Marjorie Swann.

UNRECORDED COPY FILED IN 100-463369 -

Referenced memorandum advises that in the 8/21/72 issue of the "Boston Globe," a daily newspaper, an article indicated that captioned individuals had, while in Paris 7/27/72 through 8/5/72, discussed with representatives of North Vietnam and the Viet Cong a proposal whereby a group of American women would travel to North Vietnam to live and work "as a sort of penance for the policies and actions of the U. S." Reportedly, the proposal was then under consideration by the Vietnamese officials involved.

New York letter and LHM dated 10/27/72, captioned "Marjorie Swann, SM - Subversive," copies of which were directed to your office, indicated that as of 9/72, an organizing center named "Women Volunteers to Vietnam" had been established in Newton, Massachusetts, for the above purpose.

It is further noted that referenced memorandum of 3/16/73 advised that a source of your office on 2/27/73, advised that Marjorie Swann, on 2/23/73, was going to sponsor a meeting in Ashby, Massachusetts, the purpose of which was to attempt to recruit civilians to go to North Vietnam to help rebuild and rehabilitate that country. communication indicating that the above meeting was actually held.

Headquarters is not in receipt of information, other than above, positively indicating that a group of Americans are planning to travel to North Vietnam for the above-stated purpose. Obviously, this information would be of interest to the State Department and the intelligence community in Washington, D. C. Through reliable sources only, you should attempt to determine if the above meeting of 2/28/73 was held and ascertain whether or not a group is actually being formed to travel to North Vietnam. If affirmative, pertinent details relating to such travel, such as dates, leadership and finances, should be ascertained. During your inquiries, be alert for possible violation of the Registration Act or other applicable Federal statutes on the part of the subjects.

Furnish results to Headquarters in form suitable for dissemination under appropriate caption, accompanied by your recommendation as to additional action deemed necessary.

NOTE:

Available information indicates that subjects, during their 1972 travel to Paris, were aided by the Quaker International Center. Both subjects in newspaper clippings have been identified as activists in the American peace movement. There is no indication in Headquarters files indicating organizational affiliation on the part of either. Headquarters files contain no references to the "Women Volunteers to Vietnam."

Reference is made to FBI memorandum dated March 16, 1973 at Boston, Massachusetts.

On May 9, 1973 a source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Marjorie Swann resides in Ashby, Massachusetts, and she is employed nearby in the office of Cushing Academy, a private boarding school in Ashburnham, Massachusetts.

This source went on to say that Marjorie Swann is one of the leaders in that area of the so called "Counter Culture," who favor drug usage, have demonstrated against the war in Vietnam and who are generally opposed to policies of the U.S. Government. He stated that she has, on more than one occasion, been a participant in the "talk show" known as "Frankly Speaking," which is sponsored by a Fitchburg, Massachusetts, radio station. On these radio appearances she has promoted her ideas of organizing people to go to North Vietnam to help work and rebuild that country.

The source advised that Swann had held a meeting in Ashby on February 28, 1973, at the Unitarian Church, and very few people were in attendance. He further advised that it was his understanding that Swann's promotion of a trip to Vietnam had practically "fizzled" and that many of the individuals who had initially supported Swann and her idea had reneged on actually participating in such a trip.

The source related that Marjorie Swann is an intelligent shrewd woman, who by virtue of her prior trip to North Vietnam and her compatibility with the younger

RE: New York Teletype to Bureau, 1/15/71.

The New England Committee For Non-Violent Action (NECNVA) on 1/20/71 conducted a "Freedom Walk" from the Conn. Correctional Center, Montville, Conn. to Conn. College New London, Conn., and again on 1/21/71 from New London, Conn. to the Conn. Correctional Center, Niantic, Conn., under the direction of MAJORIE SWAN, Staff Member of the NECNVA, which has headquarters at Voluntown, Conn. According to information furnished by Troopers ROBERT OFTEN and ROBERT BEDELL, Conn. State Police, Groton, Conn., 7 persons participated in the walk on 1/20/71 and 10 persons on 1/21/71. Both walks were conducted without incident and little or no attention was given to the walk by the public.

The NECNVA by news release to the local press demanded an end to the "sympathetic government oppression of the Black Panther Party" and reaffirmed the NECNVA belief in a non-violent means of social change.

NEW ENGLAND COMMITTEE FOR NON-VIOLENT ACTION (CNVA), IS - MISC.

ON JUNE FOUR, LAST, SOURCE WHO HAS FURNISHED RELIABLE INFORMATION IN THE PAST, ADVISED THAT APPROXIMATELY FOURTEEN MEMBERS OF THE CAPTIONED GROUP ASSEMBLED AT THE GATE OF ELECTRIC BOAT COMPANY GROTON, CONN., TO PROTEST THE LAUNCHING OF ONE HUNDREDTH NUCLEAR SUBMARINE. THE DEMONSTRATION LASTED FROM APPROXIMATELY NINE THIRTY AM TO FOUR PM AND ENTAILED THE HANDING OUT OF LEAFLETS DENOUNCING THE LAUNCHING TO WORKERS AS THEY WENT TO LUNCH AT ELEVEN THIRTY. DEMONSTRATORS WERE POORLY RECEIVED AND OF TWENTY FOUR HUNDRED PREPARED LEAFLETS, ONLY APPROXIMATELY FIFTY WERE ACCEPTED. DEMONSTRATORS WERE NOT ALLOWED CLOSE ENOUGH TO OBSERVE THE LAUNCHING. THERE WERE NO INCIDENTS OR ARRESTS.

THIS SAME GROUP PLANS TO RETURN AT NINE THIRTY AM AT ELECTRIC BOAT TO PROTEST THE LAYING OF THE KEEL AT WHICH SECRETARY OF DEFENSE, MELVIN R. LAIRD, WILL APPEAR. THE GROUP HAS INDICATED NO INTENTION OF PHYSICAL HARM OR VIOLENCE DIRECTED AT LAIRD AND PLAN BASICALLY TO REPEAT THE ABOVE ACTIONS.

END THE DRAFT REGIONAL CONFERENCE

SEPTEMBER 17 - 19

... to make the draft inoperable in the Northeast

A regional conference for people interested in mounting an intensive nonviolent campaign, based on the assumption that there is no reason for anyone to be drafted into the U.S. military.

A campaign, not a demonstration or series of demonstrations, not a mobilization, parade or rally as appropriate as all these are, but a program of comparatively long and specific duration aimed at immobilizing Selective Service throughout our area through all levels of action, persuasion and education, engaging every possible community resource.

We look forward to a decentralized effort with a common approach. A major purpose of the conference is to identify specific goals realizable through nonviolent action, attainable goals along the road to the eradication of the draft. We need experiences of real success to energize the movement and to bring the ultimate goal closer.

Come together to work out strategies and to learn skills in:

- noncooperation
- nonviolent direct action at draft boards and induction stations
- getting draft board members to resign
- overcooperation
- mounting a broad based educational campaign
- making draft information centers more effective
- draft board research
- mill-ins
- early morning shows

TIME: From dinnertime (about 6 p.m.) Friday, September 17, to lunch, Sunday, September 19.

COST: $12 covers room, board and program. Please register in advance with a $5 (unreturnable) deposit for each person planning to attend. If you're really short of bread we can arrange something.

PLACE: New England Committee for Nonviolent Action (CNVA)
RFD #1, Box 430
Voluntown, Connecticut 06384
203-376-0287

100-426761-1785

DIRECTIONS TO CNVA FARM:

From Exit 85 on the Connecticut Turnpike take Route 138 East through Voluntown, picking up Route 165. Bear left on Rt. 165 where it splits from Rt. 138. The CNVA sign hangs from the left about $\frac{1}{4}$ mile down Rt. 165 from the fork.

From Boston-Providence take exit 58 from I-95 onto Route 102. Turn right off Rt. 102 onto Rt. 3. At the first light turn right onto Rt. 165. Go about ten miles and look for the CNVA sign on the right.

Bring a sleeping bag, bathing suit, comfortable clothes and lots of ideas. Between sessions there is time for swimming, roaming in the woods, singing, reading from the CNVA library-- all in a setting of woods, fields, fresh air and friendly people.

I expect to attend the END THE DRAFT CONFERENCE

a deserter who is now in hiding. Among the articles taken from the trio and reportedly still held by the police department was a notebook which allegedly contained names and numbers of members of "movement" contacts in Quebec, Canada, Algeria, and domestically. She stated that she felt the Elizabeth P.D. had not really gone through the notebook or they would have turned it over to the FBI. She based this conclusion on the fact that SMART has made no mention to her of FBI attempts to locate him. She stated that her personal friends had helped hide the deserter before moving him on. She advised she would forward the name of the deserter to New Haven so that the New Haven Office of the VVAW could make sure the deserter's name did not appear in any of their records.

The above information is being furnished to Newark as it may be of some intelligence value.

New Haven upon learning the identity of the deserter will forward same to Newark as possibility exists he may be Bureau fugitive. Newark should be most discreet in any future action on this information as it would undoubtedly led to exposure of New Haven informant.

THE END THE DRAFT REGIONAL CONFERENCE
IN VOLUNTOWN, CONNECTICUT
SEPTEMBER 17-19, 1971

On September 20, 1971, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished the following information:

On September 17, 1971, approximately forty people representing various peace groups throughout New England met at the Communal Farm of the New England Committee for Non Violent Action in Voluntown, Connecticut, for the End the Draft Regional Conference.

The New England Committee for Non Violent Action (NECNVA) is self-described as a non-partisan pacifist organization formed to protest the defense policy of the Government and to "enable millions of Americans to resist by non-violent means-- any tyranny or foreign invasion." It is headquartered on a 40 acre farm in Voluntown, Connecticut, where conferences, weekend seminars, work camps and training programs in non-violence are held.

The purpose of the meeting during the evening of September 17, 1971, was to establish workshop guidelines for the rest of the weekend. ART BOYD of Cambridge, Massachusetts, American Friends Service Committee, appeared to be leading the group in discussion. At 2:00 a.m. the meeting was still bogged down in total disagreement. The only thing that was agreed upon was that they wanted to end the draft and if necessary hamper the function of the draft boards and induction centers, but although a great many ideas were noted, no more than four or five people could agree on any one point, and then the agreement of that small group was not in total. Either they disagreed ideologically or politically or on the different needs of different areas or on the role of liberated women or many other similar points. It also became quite apparent that none of the people there really wanted to wind up in jail, and they showed much revolutionary fervor until it became a matter of committing themselves to a cause that might place themselves in jeopardy. The different ideas were placed on a blackboard and discussed by various members of the groups, and dealt with the following subjects:

- Draft board "buddy" system (make friends with members of draft boards and try to convince them to resign);

- Boarding busses containing inductees;

- Chaining oneself to busses for inductees;

- Destroying files;

- Appearing at draft boards and induction centers dressed as death;

- Boycotting busses owned by draft board members;

- Swamping draft boards with varied mail, i.e. swamping draft boards with requests to review individual files, daily notifications of health status and/or changes, having women flooding draft boards with requests for equal induction status;

THE END THE DRAFT REGIONAL CONFERENCE
IN VOLUNTOWN, CONNECTICUT,
SEPTEMBER 17-19, 1971

Start campaign in junior and senior
high schools concerning draft counseling;

Leafleting, picketing for use of harassing
tactics against draft board members
which would include picketing their homes
and places of employment.

At one point, a spokesman who remained unnamed for a group which he did not identify, made a short speech concerning the fact that he and his people felt that the overall group was doing nothing more than restating things that had already been tried in other areas of the country and that this meeting had nothing new to offer and that they would also become entangled and crippled by its own diversity, and that he was pulling out the next morning. Shortly thereafter a young man got up and made an hysterical speech about the group becoming violent in that it was voicing open disagreement and that if it did not stop, he would explode and jump on somebody. He continued raving and became more emotional and less coherent and screamed again that he would "jump out of his skin and onto someone if the disagreement continued." He finally sat down, muttered to himself, and shook for the remainder of the meeting. At 2:00 a.m. the meeting ended without the group even being able to agree on the hour for breakfast.

At approximately 9:30 a.m. on September 18, 1971, it was decided to discuss the procedure all over again. Approximately one hour later it was decided that nothing was being accomplished and so the meeting broke down into groups of 10 individuals, but it appeared that even at this level nothing could be accomplished. The discussion came to an end around 12 noon.

THE END THE DRAFT REGIONAL CONFERENCE
IN VOLUNTOWN, CONNECTICUT,
SEPTEMBER 17-19, 1971

The atmosphere of the meeting was one of extreme paranoia with most of the individuals not identifying themselves even by a first name, nor would they identify the group they were representing. Those whose identification was made known are as follows:

- Member*
JACK SMITH, Vietnam Veterans Against the War, 53 Wall Street, New Haven, Connecticut;
- Member*
JACK SHATTUCK, New York American CONN. Friends Service Committee, made reference to having spent time in prison for actions concerning anti-draft activities;
- CONN.* TOM CORNELL, Catholic Peace Fellowship;

SEPTEMBER 17-19, 1971

On September 22, 1971, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished the following:

On September 17-19, 1971, CNVA sponsored an End-The-Draft Regional Conference at its farm at Voluntown, Connecticut. This farm is a center for social action run by CNVA. The Coordinator for the weekend was Ray Andrews of the CNVA staff, a white male formerly from Norwich, Connecticut. (It is noted that all who attended the Conference were white). Art Boyd of Cambridge, Massachusetts, and Chuck Noell of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, were leaders of the Conference. Jack Shattuck of South Orange, New Jersey, represented the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC) and Tom Cornell from New York City led a contingent from the Catholic Peace Fellowship (CPF), New York, New York.

The purpose of the Conference was to work out a campaign for ending the Selective Service System, a long-range goal, which the participants know will take a long time.

END-THE-DRAFT REGIONAL CONFERENCE, SPONSORED BY NEW

VOLUNTOWN, CONNECTICUT,
SEPTEMBER 17-19, 1971

The group spent Friday evening, September 17, 1971, and Saturday morning, September 18, 1971, discussing tactics and methods of making the draft inoperable. The group listed facets and people within the current system which might interfere with effective functioning of the draft. Also listed were the following tactics:

1. Leafleting, boycotting and sitting down in front of buses carrying inductees or men going for physicals.
2. An action at the Armed Forces Examination and Entrance Station (AFEES), described as a good point to cause a bottleneck.
3. Attempt to get draft board member "buddies," and keep them "informed" by telephonic and other contacts.
4. Interference with administration, such as:

"Spectre" - go to a draft board office dressed as "Death," and screech, et cetera.

"Over-cooperation Transformation" - work to turn the draft office or AFEES into something else.
5. Mail and communications to the board.
6. Pouring blood on or removing draft files.
7. Attempt to "bail out" local board clerks by sending them literature on other job possibilities, "educating" them.
8. Approaching the registrants themselves.

9. Approaching the State Governor.
10. Obtaining lists of 18 year olds to approach, such as 18 year old voters.
11. Mass education campaigns directed at the public.
12. Boycotts and strikes.
13. Negotiations with United States Senators.

The approach taken was to look at the draft to see what makes it operate, and to try to find a way to halt it, The campaign's criteria were:

1. Its relevance to the public.
2. Different tactics designed so anyone can fit in.
3. Positive outlook and alternatives.
4. Build up momentum.
5. Clearly define goals and clearly differentiate between means and goals.
6. Have built-in short-range successes - victories.
7. Wise use of the media for an education campaign.

On September 17, 1971, the group became somewhat divided as to the purpose of the weekend, and three people from Binghamton, New York, left the Conference. Some people wanted to discuss local tactics and actions, but not work on a campaign.

On September 18, 1971, the Conference broke up into small groups to go over actions, education or legal methods for the campaign. These groups were to use former experiences and creative ideas to work for the campaign. One group then divided into two smaller groups, one discussing an education campaign, and the other direct action. In the afternoon, the whole group met to discuss the morning and plans were made for an evening game. The game was a role-playing of a community. The group assigned different persons to represent seven parts of the community which functioned "as usual": campaigners, students, blacks, parents, the Chamber of Commerce, Draft Board and the City Government. The game showed those attending the Conference where and how problems arise, and pointed out the serious lack of communication within the community.

On September 19, 1971, in the morning, the group returned to discuss the plans for a campaign. No direct action campaign was agreed to or planned, but persons attending made contacts with others of similar interests, and plans for a future action or actions may result at a later date.

Those who discussed direct action in the smaller group alluded to above, on September 18, 1971, included Tom Cornell, Paul Fraser, Jean Kijek, Rita Neimeyer, Jack Shattuck, Ray Andres, Gary Lynes and Linda Meadowcroft. The group started by discussing the value of draft board raids, like the recent Camden, New Jersey, action. It was the general consensus that that type of raid at night was not very successful in ending the draft. In fact, it was agreed that the Selective Service System has copies of files, and the damage done is to the registrants applying for deferments. The group also agreed that such actions antagonize the public by the way they are done.

Tom Cornell stated that any direct action on a draft board office should be announced and done openly. He suggested going in and pouring blood on the files. Gary Lynes suggested that they aim the action at draft board members by pouring sugar in their car gas tanks, or in the bus gas tanks on the days of physicals at AFES.

The group discussed using the time of physicals to tour the AFEES and millaaround. Cornell suggested going to the office to do an action called "Spectre" - walk in dressed like death and screech and open a bag of animal intestines, seemingly pouring them from your body. Another person suggested the "buddy" system of selecting a draft board member to picket, write to, talk with, et cetera, to get the member to quit or make changes.

Cornell suggested sitting in mourning in draft boards, or "hiring" an Irish professional mourner to wail and cry over the deaths of Vets.

No final plan or campaign was decided on in the direct action section of the Conference. It was strongly felt that getting to know the board members as well as possible was a good method to begin making yourself and your views known, over and over.

Mike Murphy, of Englewood, New Jersey, summarized the final results of the Conference as follows:

Art Boyd of AFSC, Cambridge, Massachusetts, offered the "Final Draft Newsletter" to serve as the communication link for the campaign, to inform people of activities. The goal of the campaign is to make the draft as inoperative as possible, and to show the public alternative systems of society. (Alternative systems means other uses for draft board and AFEES facilities).

The activities suggested are: a "peace bridge" for the American exiles in Canada; the so-called "Charlottesville Pledge" was acceptable to many (pledged non-cooperation with draft by masses of people); Paul Frazer's suggestion of having people register at draft boards for activities other than the draft, and alternative buses at AFEES to offer transportation to a constructive alternative; destruction of billboards bearing draft advertisements, particularly on Federal highways, where, it was said, billboards are illegal; and the previously explained harrassment of "buddies" on local boards.

Paul Fraser told about a plan, mentioned above, to have 500 Canadian exiles meet at the bridge to return to the United States. The plan is to cause a backlog in the legal machinery of the draft and make it open to the public.

A future follow-up meeting may be held, to compare what has been done and to work toward a joint action.

During the course of the Conference, Sister Elizabeth Hillman of Tewksbury, Massachusetts, advised that she is a friend of Father Philip Berrigan. She said that the arrest of John Peter Grady in the Camden break-in was a real blow to the "Movement." She said Grady is the key person to many of the actions (which ones unspecified), and he knew who to contact and how to put people in touch with one another. She stated that she has not participated in any of the actions. She declared that no one had expected that they would all get arrested, so no provisions had been made.

Philip and Daniel Berrigan are currently serving Federal prison terms for convictions stemming from draft file destruction in Maryland.

Also during the Conference, Mike De Gregory told a story about the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) coming to the home of one Mr. Cunningham in Camden, New Jersey, looking for Grady. After a brief altercation, Agents left and later returned in force. He said that a meeting was going on in the house when Agents first approached it.

On September 19, 1971, there was a liturgy and vigil at Danbury Federal Correctional Institution, Danbury, Connecticut. At about 11:15 am, Fred Lord, Jena Kijek, Sister Elizabeth Hillman, Jean Keelan and Rita Neimeyer left CNVA for Danbury. Mike True was the coordinator of the liturgy.

About 34 persons were present outside the main gates of Danbury Prison, most from the Worcester, Massachusetts "Floating Parish." From about 1:15 pm until about 1:45 pm, the liturgical service was conducted. A vigil began thereafter. Nearly everyone but about five persons who remained for a continuing vigil then left the prison at about 2:15 for lunch. From lunch, they returned home. It appeared that the group at Danbury was strongly and emotionally pro-Berrigan Brothers, and they all called for those present to return October 2, 1971, to the Danbury area for a demonstration, the location for which is still in litigation. Among those present at this liturgy and vigil were Marian Shindel, of the Floating Parish, who said she is a friend of Dan Berrigan, and a (First Name Unknown) Clark, from the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW). CONN.

dear brothers and sisters,

the local draft board on church street in spring valley is still going about "business as usual". the reality of this is that many young men from our community are being processed into a brutal war which the draft continues to serve. we must take the responsibility of letting our draft board know that the community of resistance in rockland county is growing and working on many levels.

we believe the program described here is a foundation for the building of that visible community of conscience. we have attempted to make the program sensitive to the different needs of people and flexible enough to find a place in their various living situations. it is open to new possibilities for action and education. we trust that you will be exploring these possibilities with us.

please join us, in the belief that we are all responsible for what goes on in our community. through action flowing from the spirit of love and openness, we trust that we can reach the people who work at the draft board and those in the county who oppose our efforts.

FREE OUR SISTERS, FREE OUR BROTHERS
— FREE OURSELVES —
FROM CONSON TO DANBURY WE ARE ALL PRISONERS

FOR INFORMATION
CALL 212 691 7410

On October 2nd, we are marching on Danbury Federal Prison -- and on prisons around the country -- to unite ourselves with the Danbury Resisters and other prisoners.

On August 6th, the Danbury Resisters released a statement and began a fast and work stoppage which, in Fr. Daniel Berrigan's words, "called attention to the duplicity and non-accountability of the Federal Parole Board" and which "dared to link crimes against domestic prisoners to crimes against Vietnamese prisoners."

They demanded:

1. Major reforms of a parole system that has recently boasted a 12.6% decline in parole grants.
2. An early review of the parole application of Fr. Philip Berrigan and a parole grant for Fr. Daniel Berrigan, whose poor health has led Danbury doctors to predict continuing physical deterioration so long as he remains in prison.
3. An end to the U. S. -funded tiger cages used for political prisoners in South Vietnam.

Demands issued by a similar group -- the Committee on Prisons of South Vietnam -- have been added as our own. These include:

1. The end to U. S. funding and staffing of prisons and interrogation camps for political suspects in South Vietnam.
2. The release of all those who are sick, disabled, and are being held without trial, or whose sentences have now expired.

The October 2nd date coincides with the non-elections of South Vietnam in order to make clearer the connection between the political use of prisons in both the U. S. and South Vietnam, and most especially, imprisoning of activists for peace and justice in both countries.

For information on the demonstration at Danbury, Connecticut, contact:

WHY THE DRAFT?

A color television videotape on
the draft, the war and American militarism

with: Earth Family Theater Troupe
Rev. Paul Deats of Clergy and Laymen Concerned
Katherine Knight of the American Friends Service Committee
Frederick Lord of the National Council to Repeal the Draft
Rev. Paul Treat of Citizens for Participation Politics

The program discusses the draft and its relation to American tradition, the militarization of American society, and the war in Indochina. It presents the issues involved in ending the draft, and is interspersed with mock "commercials" prepared by the Earth Family Theater Troupe. It was originally broadcast on Channel 44 in Boston, April 2, 1971.

Suggested for schools, colleges and cable TV stations.
Recorded on half-inch helical scan tape useable on any Type 1 standard videotape machine.

What is upsetting our campuses are the real and terrifyingly large and difficult problems besetting our whole society. One of these has a special impact on the campus. That is the draft.

Nothing now so poisons academic life in America as the draft. To draft about 400,000 men each year, we keep about 5 million young men between the ages of 19 and 26 continuously on tenterhooks. And don't think the young women aren't there, too! Our entire younger generation, students, and even more nonstudents, is kept in a continuous state of insecurity and uncertainty, unable to plan their lives.

Almost all the students I teach were born since World War II. Just after World War II, a series of new and abnormal procedures came into American life. We regarded them at the time as temporary aberrations. We thought we would get back to normal American life some day.

But those procedures have stayed with us now for more than 20 years, and those students of mine have never known anything else. They think those things are normal. They think we've always had a Pentagon, that we have always had a big army and that we always had a draft. But those are all new things in American life, and I think that they are incompatible with what America meant before.

A peacetime draft is the most unAmerican thing I know. All the time I was growing up, I was told about oppressive Central European countries and Russia, where young men were forced into the army, and I was told what they did about it. They chopped off a finger, or shot off a couple of toes; or better still, if they could manage it, they came to this country. And we understood that, and sympathized, and were glad to welcome them.

Now, by present estimates, 4,000 to 6,000 Americans of draft age have left this country for Canada, another 2,000 or 3,000 have gone to Europe and it looks as though many more are preparing to emigrate.

There are choices in getting rid of the draft. I think that when we get rid of the draft, we must also cut back on the size of the armed forces. It seems to me that in peacetime a total of one million men is surely enough.

I don't think we can live with the present military establishment and its $80-100 billion a year budget and keep America anything like we have known it in the past. It is corrupting the life of the whole country. It is buying up everything in sight: industries, banks, investors, universities, and lately it seems also to have bought up the labor unions.

I say that the Vietnam war is just an immediate incident, because so long as we keep that big an army, it will always find things to do. If the Vietnam war stopped tomorrow, with that big a military establishment, the chances are that we would be in another such adventure abroad or at home before you knew it.

Dont' reform the draft - - get rid of it.

Dr. George Wald is Professor of Biology at Harvard and a 1967 Nobel laureate. He also is a sponsor of the National Council to Repeal the Draft.

Captioned organization continues to maintain a communal farm at Voluntown, Conn., staffed by approximately a half dozen individuals. Their activities are anti-war in nature and this case is currently in a closed status at New Haven.

SOURCE continues periodic contact with NECNVA and their activities have been handled under individual case caption such as the "War Tax Resistance" (WTR) and the recent bicycle sojourn through New England by WTR participants.

Their activities have been non-violent in nature and poorly attended receiving little or no publicity in Conn. However, New Haven will continue coverage of the farm through informants for intelligence purposes as the farm does offer anonymity and could be logically used by those individuals in a fugitive status.

NEW ENGLAND COMMITTEE FOR
NON-VIOLENT ACTION (NECNVA)

According to literature distributed in the past by the Committee for Non-Violent Action (CNVA), this group was originally formed in 1957 as the National Committee for Non-Violent Action Against Nuclear Weapons.

A press release issued June 1, 1960, by the CNVA, 158 Grand Street, New York City, noted that the CNVA described itself as a non-partisan pacifist organization which would begin to center its activities in the New London-Groton, Connecticut area, but activities would also "spread from New York to Boston in a series of peace walks, demonstrations, and public meetings."

A leaflet distributed by CNVA in 1960 described the intent of the organization to protest the defense policy of the Government and to "enable millions of Americans to resist by non-violent means----any tyranny or foreign invasion." The leaflet listed certain acceptable resistance techniques as "refusal to serve in the armed forces or work in military industries; refusal to pay Federal income taxes which go for guns and bombs."

"The Hartford Courant", a daily newspaper published in Hartford, Connecticut, noted on August 20, 1961, that the CNVA "maintains two offices in this country, one being in New York and the other in New London, Connecticut."

A solicitation letter dated September 29, 1960, noted that members of NECNVA, an adjunct for CNVA, held the initial meeting of the NECNVA at New London, Connecticut, on September 25, 1960.

Literature distributed by NECNVA in 1968, noted, "Today the NECNVA conducts a region-wide program in six New England States in eastern New York State, and occasionally across the border with Canadians in the peace movement."

NON-VIOLENT ACTION (NECNVA)

7 According to literature distributed in the past by the Committee for Non-Violent Action (CNVA), this group was originally formed in 1957 as the National Committee for Non-Violent Action Against Nuclear Weapons.

A press release issued June 1, 1960, by the CNVA, 158 Grand Street, New York City, noted that the CNVA described itself as a non-partisan pacifist organization which would begin to center its activities in the New London-Groton, Connecticut area, but activities would also "spread from New York to Boston in a series of peace walks, demonstrations and public meetings."

A leaflet distributed by CNVA in 1960 described the intent of the organization to protest the defense policy of the Government and to "enable millions of Americans to resist by non-violent means--- any tyranny or foreign invasion." The leaflet listed certain acceptable resistance techniques as "refusal to serve in the armed forces or work in military industries, refusal to pay Federal income taxes which go for guns and bombs."

"The Hartford Courant", a daily newspaper published in Hartford, Connecticut, noted on August 20, 1961, that the CNVA "maintains two offices in this country, one being in New York and the other in New London, Connecticut."

A solicitation letter dated September 29, 1960, noted that members of NECNVA, an adjunct for CNVA, held the initial meeting of the NECNVA at New London, Connecticut, on September 25, 1960.

Literature distributed by NECNVA in 1968, noted, "Today the NECNVA conducts a region-wide program in six New England States in eastern New York State, and occasionally across the border with Canadians in the peace movement."

Headquarters for NECNVA is a 40-acre farm and has a mailing address of RFD #1, Box 430, Voluntown, Connecticut.
